Essays: Second series: The poet Ralph Waldo Emerson, 1889      The Lives of Literature Arnold Weinstein, 2022-01-18

A passionate wry and personal book about how the greatest works of literature illuminate our lives Why do we read literature For Arnold Weinstein the answer is clear literature allows us to become someone else Literature changes us by giving us intimate access to an astonishing variety of other lives experiences and places across the ages Reflecting on a lifetime of reading teaching and writing The Lives of Literature explores with passion humor and whirring intellect a professor's life the thrills and traps of teaching and most of all the power of literature to lead us to a deeper understanding of ourselves and the worlds we inhabit As an identical twin Weinstein experienced early the dislocation of being mistaken for another person and of feeling that he might be someone other than he had thought In vivid readings elucidating the classics of authors ranging from Sophocles to James Joyce and Toni Morrison he explores what we learn by identifying with their protagonists including those who undone by wreckage and loss discover that all their beliefs are illusions Weinstein masterfully argues that literature's knowing differs entirely from what one ends up knowing when studying mathematics or physics or even history by entering these characters lives readers acquire a unique form of knowledge and come to understand its cost In The Lives of Literature a master writer and teacher shares his love of the books that he has taught and been taught by showing us that literature matters because we never stop discovering who we are

Exposed John McCarthy, 2013-11 Who are we Where do we come from What is our purpose These questions have been asked throughout our existence Ever since the first campfire was lit we have asked ourselves if we could do better And we have wondered what lies in the future Exposed is a collection of poetry written by John McCarthy first as therapy and then as an outlet for a vast expanse of emotions His perspective has been shaped by thirty years of police and investigation experience and by being an avid hunter and nature enthusiast This collection is the culmination of a four year journey that begins with despair over a broken marriage and ends in redemption It s an honest reflection of life s experiences and of a search for a higher calling This poetic journey begins with Something s Wrong in which two strangers in a long marriage pass each other as life goes by They know everything about each other but they do not really know the things that matter particularly how to say the things that need to be said The author s melancholy path takes us through periods of reflection and self pity but it closes on a note of hopefulness Exposed reveals the poet s enlightenment and purpose his love of the mountains and the sea and inspiration passing through old lonely country towns that time has forgotten Experience the world through McCarthy s eyes and words the tragic the sadness the lonely the joy the redemption and the beauty
