This deeply imaginative and entertaining poetry collection details the pleasures of the orchestra from strong willed A to satisfied Z Two widely acclaimed poets one a composer and classical pianist as well have come together to create this extraordinary portrait of the orchestra in all of its richness and fascination using the structure of the alphabet in a way that is entirely new and delightful A is for the first note you hear as you take your seat in the concert hall played by the headstrong oboe B is for the bassoon the orchestra s jester complaining impatiently through his nose And C is for the conductor like the captain on the bridge of a great ship navigating the composer s musical charts Onward the text goes soaring in reverie and making thought provoking observations while not taking itself too seriously illuminating all the various details that flow together to create the nourishing experience of playing or listening to music The Birth of the Orchestra John Spitzer,Neal Zaslaw,2004-04-29 This book traces the emergence of the orchestra from 16th century string bands to the classical orchestra of Haydn Mozart Beethoven and their contemporaries Ensembles of bowed stringed instruments several players per part plus continuo and wind instruments were organized in France in the mid 17th century and then in Rome at the end of the century The prestige of these ensembles and of the music and performing styles of their leaders Jean Baptiste Lully and Arcangelo Corelli caused them to be imitated elsewhere until by the late 18th century the orchestra had become a pan European phenomenon Spitzer and Zaslaw review previous accounts of these developments then proceed to a thoroughgoing documentation and discussion of orchestral organization instrumentation and social roles in France Italy Germany England and the American colonies They also examine the emergence of orchestra musicians idiomatic music for orchestras orchestral performance practices and the awareness of the orchestra as a central institution in European life
