Islam's Quantum Question Nidhal

Guessoum,2010-10-30 In secular Europe the veracity of modern science is almost always taken for granted Whether they think of the evolutionary proofs of Darwin or of spectacular investigation into the boundaries of physics conducted by CERN's Large Hadron Collider most people assume that scientific enquiry goes to the heart of fundamental truths about the universe Yet elsewhere science is under siege In the USA Christian fundamentalists contest whether evolution should be taught in schools at all And in Muslim countries like Tunisia Egypt Pakistan and Malaysia a mere 15 per cent of those recently surveyed believed Darwin's theory to be true or probably true This thoughtful and passionately argued book contends absolutely to the contrary not only that evolutionary theory does not contradict core Muslim beliefs but that many scholars from Islam's golden age to the present adopted a worldview that accepted evolution as a given Guessoum suggests that the Islamic world just like the Christian needs to take scientific questions quantum questions with the utmost seriousness if it is to recover its true heritage and integrity In its application of a specifically Muslim perspective to important topics like cosmology divine action and evolution the book makes a vital contribution to debate in the disputed field of science and religion

What Every Christian High School Student Should Know about Islam Bruce Kelly Forest, 2010 In 2006 sixty one percent of the young adults of America felt that Islam was a peaceful religion Fifty six percent had a favorable opinion of Islam and fifty one percent feel Islam teaches respect of others Only ten percent felt prejudice against Arabs and Muslims Some perhaps are encouraged by these numbers for it appears that our young adults are growing up to be a very tolerant people Most of our youth after all have repeatedly been told by our national leaders Islam is a peaceful religion If this is true why should we not reciprocate In some ways this is very commendable All should strongly agree that one should not be prejudiced against anyone because of their nationality But what if Islam is not a peaceful religion What if it is not tolerant or respectful of others What if in fact the religion teaches prejudice against anyone who is not Islamic and requires true Muslims to struggle against the infidel until the infidel is subdued Then perhaps the older generation is not intolerant as they may initially appear But rather they may simply not be naive having experienced more history and watched more news As most of the elderly will tell you youth has many wonderful advantages but life experience is not one of them Six out of ten of the older generation believe Islam is not peaceful Seven out of ten look unfavorably upon Islam believing it does not respect others Put more directly many of the older generation surveyed think that Islam is a violent and intolerant religion If Islam is a violent intolerant expansionist religion then this younger generation and the subsequent generations will make themselves increasingly vulnerable to the onslaught of Islam if they do not think clearly and respond accordingly Who is analyzing the situation more correctly What are the consequences for embracing each view How can an objective person determine which view to hold This study seeks to answer such questions The best way to determine whether or not Islam is a peaceful religion is to look at Islam's leaders its literature its theology and its history The body of this study will do just that beginning with the pre Islamic world the life of Muhammad the four caliphs the Umayyads the Abbasids the period of fragmentation of Islamic lands the Ottomans Islam in the 20th century and finally an examination of the present Beginning with a Judeo Christian perspective this study demonstrates that Islam is bad theology and a profoundly bad actor in history This study is a reasonable polemic against authentic historic

Islam with an awareness that Jesus came to redeem every person on this earth including Muslims Many Muslims are profoundly devout but devoted to a heretical ineffective and oppressive theology Christians can no longer ignore Islam for it is reemerging on the world scene and the consequences of apathy or ambivalence will be profound
