Urban Multilingualism in the European Union Giuditta Caliendo, Rudi Janssens, Stef Slembrouck, Piet Van Avermaet, 2017 Urban Multilingualism in East-central Europe Jan Fellerer, 2020 Urban Multilingualism in East Central Europe The Polish Dialect of Late Habsburg Lviv makes the case for a two pronged approach to past urban multilingualism in East Central Europe one that considers both historical and linguistic features Based on archival materials from late Habsburg Lemberg now Lviv in western Ukraine the author examines its workings in day to day life in the streets shops and homes of the city in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries The places where the city s Polish Ukrainian Yiddish German encounters took place produced a distinct urban dialect A variety of south eastern borderland Polish it was subject to strong ongoing Ukrainian as well as Yiddish and German influence Jan Fellerer analyzes its main morpho syntactic features with reference to diverse written and recorded

sources of the time This approach represents a departure from many other studies that focus on the phonetics and inflectional morphology of Slavic dialects Fellerer argues that contact induced linguistic change is contingent on the historical specifics of the contact setting The close knit urban community of historical Lviv and its dialect provide a rich interdisciplinary case study

Urban Diversities and Language Policies in Medium-sized Linguistic Communities Emili Boix, 2015 This book examines medium sized linguistic communities in urban contexts against the backdrop of the language policies which have been implemented in these respective areas The book aims to improve our understanding of how and why languages live and decay and of how intercultural cities where communities show interest in each other s culture and language can be better built and encouraged

Multilingual Europe Guus Extra, Durk Gorter, 2008 This book offers an inclusive perspective on the constellation of languages in Europe by taking into account official state languages regional minority languages and immigrant minority languages as constituent parts of Europe s identity Both facts and policies on multilingualism and plurilingual education are addressed in case studies at the national and European level The themes of the book are addressed from phenomenological demographic sociolinguistic and education points of view
