Decolonization and African Society Frederick Cooper,1996-08-28 This detailed and authoritative volume changes our conceptions of imperial and African history Frederick Cooper gathers a vast range of archival sources in French and English to achieve a truly comparative study of colonial policy toward the recruitment control and institutionalization of African labor forces from the mid 1930s when the labor question was first posed to the late 1950s when decolonization was well under way Professor Cooper explores colonial conceptions of the African worker and shows how African trade union and political leaders used the new language of social change to claim equality and a share of power This helped to persuade European officials that the modern Africa they imagined was unaffordable Britain and France could not reshape African society As they left the continent the question was how they had affected the ways in which Africans could reorganize society themselves

Paden,1989-07-17 Black Africa presents political economic and social data for 41 black African nations The first edition was published in 1972 and included only data on 32 countries which was the total number of independent African nations at that time Enlarging on the first edition this second edition covers in detail important aspects of the countries included from demography to political development and social mobilization to a modern comparative analysis of African states Black Africa is a complete and comprehensive handbook The first edition of Black Africa won a Book of the Year Award from the American Library Association

Africa's Population: In Search of a Demographic Dividend Hans Groth,John F. May,2017-05-23 This book examines the promises as well as the challenges the demographic dividend brings to sub Saharan Africa as fertility rates in the region fall and the labor force grows It offers a detailed analysis of what conditions must be met in order for the region to take full economic advantage of ongoing population dynamics As the book makes clear the region will need to accelerate reforms to cope with its demographic transition in particular the decline of fertility The continent will need to foster human capital formation through renewed efforts in the areas of education health and employment This will entail a true vision and determination on the part of African leaders and their development partners The book will help readers to gain solid knowledge of the demographic trends and provide insights into socioeconomic policies that eventually might lead sub Saharan Africa into a successful future

Urban Dynamics in Black Africa presents a succession of worlds where we can study the development and the crystallization of major social change The authors trace the development of former villages towns and colonial outposts into major cities within the international community Open air markets continue their trading beside modern department stores as individual Africans create contemporary lives from old and new William J and Judith L Hanna in this unique work introduce new data and the methods of dependency theory class and gender analysis they offer connections between Africa's internal dynamics its legacy of imperialism and the international political and economic arena At the same time the book provides a model for studying the evolution of political institutions Urban Dynamics in Black Africa illustrates how social classes modify and are modified by existing cultural forms The book examines Africa in its independence by contrasting development and dependency role adaptability and conflict in a powerful conceptual matrix Detailing the urban conditions that exist throughout Africa as well as their costs and benefits this work shows how contemporary political conflict in urban Africa is based upon both ethnic and non-ethnic ties and how these ethnic and non-ethnic ties serve as the bases of a system of political integration unique to poly-ethnic communities As a synthesis of the relevant available knowledge on African towns and town dwellers this book is concerned primarily with the effects of external intervention and socioeconomic modernization upon the birth and development of Africa's new towns and the rapid expansion of its old ones It considers the impact of migration and town life upon Africans
