Venice Selwyn Brinton, 1925 Hagia Sophia, 1850-1950 Robert S. Nelson, 2004-07-14 Hagia Sophia the Church of Holy Wisdom sits majestically atop the plateau that commands the straits separating Europe and Asia Located near the acropolis of the ancient city of Byzantium this unparalleled structure has enjoyed an extensive and colorful history as it has successively been transformed into a cathedral mosque monument and museum In Hagia Sophia 1850 1950 Robert S Nelson explores its many lives Built from 532 to 537 as the Cathedral of Constantinople Hagia Sophia was little studied and seldom recognized as a great monument of world art until the nineteenth century and Nelson examines the causes and consequences of the building s newly elevated status during that time He chronicles the grand dome s modern history through a vibrant cast of characters emperors sultans critics poets archaeologists architects philanthropists and religious congregations some of whom spent years studying it others never visiting the building But as Nelson shows they all had a hand in the recreation of Hagia Sophia as a modern architectural icon By many means and for its own purposes the West has conceptually transformed Hagia Sophia into the international symbol that it is today While other books have covered the architectural history of the structure this is the first study to address its status as a modern monument With his narrative of the building s rebirth Nelson captures its importance for the diverse communities that shape and find meaning in Hagia Sophia His book will resonate with cultural architectural and art historians as well as with those seeking to acquaint themselves with the modern life of an inspired and inspiring building

Current History and Modern Culture, 1902 American Book Prices Current, 1896 A record of literary properties sold at auction in the United States Virginia Woolf's Unwritten Histories Anne Besnault, 2021-11-04 Virginia Woolf's Unwritten Histories explores the interrelatedness of Woolf's modernism feminism and her understanding of history as a site of knowledge and a writing practice that enabled her to negotiate her heritage to find her place among the moderns as a female artist and intellectual and to elaborate her poetics of the new not as radical rupture but as the result of a process of unwriting and rewriting traditional historiographical orthodoxies Its central argument is that unless we comprehend the genealogy of Woolf's historical thought and the complexity of its lineage we cannot fully grasp the innovative thrust of her attempt to think back through our mothers Bringing together canonical texts such as Orlando 1928 A Room of One's Own 1929 Three Guineas 1938 or Between the Acts 1941 and under researched ones among which stand Woolf's essays on historians and reviews of history books and her pieces on literary history and nineteenth century women's literature this book argues that Woolf's textual conversations with nineteenth century writers historians and critics many of which remain unexplored are interwoven with her historiographical poesis and constitute the groundwork for her alternative histories and literary histories unwritten open textured unacademic and polemical counter narratives that keep track of the past and engage politically with the future
