Thinking Sex with the Early Moderns Valerie Traub, 2016 What do we know about early modern sex and how do we know it How when and why does sex become history In Thinking Sex with the Early Moderns Valerie Traub addresses these questions and in doing so reorients the ways in which historians and literary critics feminists and queer theorists approach sexuality and its history Her answers offer interdisciplinary strategies for confronting the difficulties of making sexual knowledge Based on the premise that producing sexual knowledge is difficult because sex itself is often inscrutable Thinking Sex with the Early Moderns leverages the notions of opacity and impasse to explore barriers to knowledge about sex in the past Traub argues that the obstacles in making sexual history can illuminate the difficulty of knowing sexuality She also argues that these impediments themselves can be adopted as a guiding principle of historiography sex may be good to think with not because it permits us access but because it doesn't

Mathematical Logic A. Lightstone, 2012-12-06 Before his death in March 1976 A H Lightstone delivered the manuscript for this book to Plenum Press Because he died before the editorial work on the manuscript was completed I agreed in the fall of 1976 to serve as a surrogate author and to see the project through to completion I have changed the manuscript as little as possible altering certain passages to correct oversights But the alterations are minor this is Lightstone's book H B Enderton vii Preface This is a treatment of the predicate calculus in a form that serves as a foundation for nonstandard analysis Classically the predicates and variables of the predicate calculus are kept distinct inasmuch as no variable is also a predicate moreover each predicate is assigned an order a unique natural number that indicates the length of each tuple to which the predicate can be prefixed These restrictions are dropped here in order to develop a flexible expressive language capable of exploiting the potential of nonstandard analysis To assist the reader in grasping the basic ideas of logic we begin in Part I by presenting the propositional calculus and statement systems This provides a relatively simple setting in which to grapple with the some times foreign ideas of mathematical logic These ideas are repeated in Part II where the predicate calculus and semantical systems are studied Proceedings of the Annual Colloquium of the Legon-Trondheim Linguistics Project, 18-20 January 2005 [i.e. 2006]: Verb constructions, phonology, lexicography Legon-Trondheim Linguistics Project.
