by observational vignettes and drawings from the children young people and teachers who have been her co researchers The book reveals patterns of dislocation disaffection and exclusion and highlights the points of intervention in policy and practice needed across school systems to create the conditions for school belonging The methodologies concepts and research tools offered can be used by practitioners and researchers in their own contexts and to guide school leaders towards creating their own places of belonging This is an urgent book of hope offering knowledge so that schools can open up possibilities to all children and young people in an increasingly uncertain world

Liberated To the Bone Susan Raffo,2022-11-15 Self transformation requires social transformation Social transformation requires self transformation The newest title in the Emergent Strategy Series Liberated to the Bone addresses the intersections between healing our physical bodies and healing our relationship within systems and structures that are shaped by violence The book illuminates three different approaches to healing ending violence the significance of being rooted in the present and creating the conditions to address unfinished histories and generational trauma By showing how these approaches are intricately connected whether it be physically or emotionally Raffo interrupts the traumatic binaries of the political and spiritual the physical and intellectual and healing and organizing

The Fundamental Principles of Learning and Study Austin Southwick Edwards,1920 A New Blueprint for Brain Health Sanjeev Sridharan,Jordan Antflick,Kaela Scott,April Nakaima,2025-12-02 This open access book presents an integrative vision to achieve better brain health Across the globe is a growing awareness of the impact of neurological conditions and mental health on wellbeing Also as populations age the number of people impacted by brain health conditions also grows shining a light on the need for brain health solutions that are sustainable Although the knowledge of what is working for a variety of brain health conditions continues to expand we need to realize that not all solutions will come from medical research What is needed to address brain health in a more sustainable way is a better understanding of the care that community provides and how a vision of better brain health will be found by deepening our understanding of the role of community and elevating the value of their contributions Community organizations provide frontline care and have a tangible understanding of the needs that accompany the populations above This means they are well equipped to provide local and accessible care Community is a place in which brain health solutions can be delivered in a sustainable effective efficient equitable and person centered way As such the knowledge community organizations can contribute to the bigger picture of health care is important This project responds to the need to better understand community care by highlighting how the role of evaluative thinking in the community sector can help us generate evidence to navigate towards better brain health futures By first recognizing and then supporting community led care we can expand how we view and receive care Along these lines the book moves from a view of healthcare as being only delivered in hospitals and clinics to recognizing the continuum of care and integration of healthcare options It provides a space for stories of health care solutions that indeed have connected health to the social and the community sectors By exploring community

interventions that have been integrated with biomedical neuroscientific solutions we will learn how integrated sustainable solutions can be created The role of evaluation in helping facilitate the creation of such solutions also will be explored This project is a partnership between the Ontario Brain Institute and the Evaluation Centre for Complex Health Interventions and reflects our collective learnings from our work in developmental evaluation and brain health Pharmacy Education Lynne Sylvia, Judith T. Barr, 2010-11-15 Pharmacy Education What Matters in Learning and Teaching is an essential resource for any pharmacy faculty member More than a narration of the philosophical aspects of teaching and personal perspectives on life as a faculty member it explores what matters why it matters and how to apply the matter to teaching learning and assessment in pharmacy education It covers a variety of teaching settings e g large classroom small group teaching clinical site and guides the reader in developing a deeper understanding of what it means to be a teacher Scenarios are included in each chapter offering readers the opportunity to readily apply educational theory to their role as educators and to adapt the book's content to their specific educational setting The reader whether a part time faculty member full time faculty member or adjunct professor preceptor is given the opportunity to personalize the material addressed in the text to his her stage of development through engagement in reflective workbook exercises Pharmacy Education What Matters in Learning and Teaching is a valuable tool for mid level senior level faculty members as well as for new faculty This text can also serve as a resource for adjunct faculty members and pharmacy residency directors and preceptors to aid in the development and refinement of clinical educational programs in pharmacy This book will be a valuable tool for not only individual pharmacy educators but for schools of pharmacy and pharmacy residency programs in their provision of faculty development and preceptor development programs Designing Sociable Robots Cynthia Breazeal, 2004-08-20 Cynthia Breazeal here presents her vision of the sociable robot of the future a synthetic creature and not merely a sophisticated tool A sociable robot will be able to understand us to communicate and interact with us to learn from us and grow with us It will be socially intelligent in a humanlike way Eventually sociable robots will assist us in our daily lives as collaborators and companions Because the most successful sociable robots will share our social characteristics the effort to make sociable robots is also a means for exploring human social intelligence and even what it means to be human Breazeal defines the key components of social intelligence for these machines and offers a framework and set of design issues for their realization Much of the book focuses on a nascent sociable robot she designed named Kismet Breazeal offers a concrete implementation for Kismet incorporating insights from the scientific study of animals and people as well as from artistic disciplines such as classical animation This blending of science engineering and art creates a lifelike quality that encourages people to treat Kismet as a social creature rather than just a machine The book includes a CD ROM that shows Kismet in action Letters and Papers Great Britain.
