Debt-slavery in Israel and the Ancient Near East Gregory Chirichigno, 1993-01-01 This original study concerns itself with the manumission laws of Exodus 20 Deuteronomy 15 and Leviticus 25 It begins with the social background to debt slavery and the socioeconomic factors encouraging the rise of debt slavery in Mesopotamia After a comparative analysis of the Mesopotamian and biblical material Chirichigno examines the social background to debt slavery in Israel the various slave laws in the Pentateuch in order to delimit the chattel slave laws from the debt slave laws and the biblical manumission laws themselves The Arab Minority In Israel's Economy Noah Lewin-epstein, Moshe Semyonov, 2019-07-11

The Arab Minority in Israel's Economy considers the Arab population as an integral albeit disadvantaged part of Israeli society Using data from a thirty year period the book looks at Arab participation in the economy especially in the labor market showing how significant socioeconomic inequality persists despite a fundamental tenet of Israel's declaration of independence asserting equality of political and social rights of all its citizens Taking an ethnic competition perspective the authors explore the extent of inequality uncovering the institutional and social processes that influence it They examine the role of local labor markets and individual human resources giving special attention to the growing labor force participation of Arab women They also consider the gains of the majority Jewish population that have resulted from competition and economic discrimination against Arabs Although the Arab community in Israel has been studied in the past this book is unique in its detailed analysis of employment activity within and outside of the Arab sector and in examining both Arabs and Jews within the stratification system The book fosters deeper understanding of Israeli society and of multi ethnic societies more generally
