The Jewish Social Service Quarterly ,1930 Beginning with 1931 the Sept issue consists of the Proceedings of the conference Research on Community-Centered Poverty-Alleviation Social Work Jun Wen, Yuefei Wu, 2023-09-01 This book starts with detailed community based poverty alleviation cases and focuses on several important aspects in this field to demonstrate the intervention methods theoretical paradigms and intervention models of poverty alleviation social work Based on the introduction to the characteristics theoretical foundation and practical model of community based poverty alleviation social work this book elaborates the specific operation processes from the perspectives of community intervention community empowerment and community construction Its chapters are arranged in a progressive order yet can also be understood separately Moreover not only are the characteristics of community based anti poverty social work highlighted in the book but the essentials of all kinds of related social work in the fight against poverty are reflected As the first professional book in China that systematically describes the theory and practice of community based anti poverty social work it is especially suitable for social workers poverty alleviation workers community workers and readers interested in related topics Social Work Today ,1979 Social Work Sunil Kumar Gupta (Health care worker),2017 Social Work Education and the COVID-19 Pandemic Yael Latzer,Liat Shklarski,2024-02-13 This book examines how the shift to remote teaching in March 2020 due to the global pandemic created new opportunities for innovation and creativity and shaped how social work classes were taught with many temporary changes now part of permanent standard practice Drawing on narratives from 20 social work leaders across 17 different countries the chapters explore particular themes and viewpoints on lessons learned during the pandemic including case studies to examine copying mechanisms insights into the transition to remote teaching and the creative lessons that were learned By taking an international perspective it represents a key contribution to the scholarship of social work leaders from around the world concerning how institutions transitioned to remote learning and teaching and how these lived experiences and new discoveries are contributing to and influencing current practice As such it will appeal to social work educators researchers and field educators around the world with interests in experimental curriculum and field practice Radical Social Work Roy Victor Bailey,Roy Bailey, Mike Brake,1975 Recession unemployment poverty urban decay delinquency vandalism alienation and inadequacy are everywhere evident in the advanced industrial countries The role of welfare agencies in ameliorating the less pleasant symptoms of western society is widely recognized as crucial to its preservation Social workers the frontline agents of the welfare state may well find that paradoxically the justification of their profession lies in the maintenance of a social and economic system that is the cause of the ills they are employed to confront and to which their everyday experience renders them fundamentally opposed These essays are radical because they explore ways in which social ills may be cured rather than concealed They challenge the relevance and long term effectiveness of received ideas in social work and social work education many of which remain rooted in the rapacious benevolence of Victorian philanthropy The authors attempt to formulate codes and practices that may provide more realistic solutions to the problems of the socially unfit At the same time they consider the questions that all social workers whether students or professionals radical or neutral must at some stage ask themselves How far can the needs of the single member be subsumed in the interests of his community How far can the requirements of political organization and conscientization of the oppressed override the immediate need to salve the distress of one family or individual How far can the means be sacrificed to the end The Indian Journal of Social Work
