Academic Writing - Student Term Papers - Structure, Introductions, Conclusions Antje Matthäus,2008-08 Seminar paper from the year 1997 in the subject English Language and Literature Studies Other Martin Luther University course Seminar Academic Discourse language English abstract Academic writing is a task that students especially in the social sciences engage in very frequently during the course of their studies They have to compose essays research reports term papers etc which besides being the basis for students evaluation are to prepare them for their professional careers later in life For those who will stay in the field writing is going to be a major activity At university a student s writing skills set him or her apart from other students in the eyes of the professor but there is no real competition all papers will be read by the instructors In the professional world however with an abundance of academic texts and with limited time only those articles will get attention that besides containing profound reasoning are at the same time well written i e conveniently structured precise short well formulated etc This paper is part of a study on academic writing conducted within the seminar Academic Discourse The study examines students works with regard to the authors writing skills It looks at the various components of a student term paper linguistic features and structural elements to detect the problems German students of English have The objective is to create a guide for current and future students in this department experiencing difficulties in this area It combines advice from published writing guides and professors linguistic theory and personal experience and is to be an introduction to academic writing for beginners and a reference booklet for the more experienced We did not attempt to produce a How to manual but rather tried to name the problem areas and to offer help on those with advice and examples It cannot take the responsibility off the students for the further refinement of their skills by othe

The International Student's Guide to

Writing a Research Paper Janine Carlock, Maeve Eberhardt, Jaime Horst, Peter Kolenich, 2017-06-13 The International Student's Guide to Writing a Research Paper is a reference text for undergraduate students and those in ESL or bridge courses who are writing a research paper for the first time. This book is partly an update of Writing a Research Paper by Lionel Menasche (1998) and partly a companion to The ESL Writer's Handbook. Each section of the book includes a discrete task called a Building Block which requires students to apply the skills learned toward the development of their own paper. This step-by-step approach allows students to construct knowledge as they become more familiar with the process, making writing a research paper a less intimidating task. Special features: This guide uses simple, direct language for those for whom writing a research paper is new. Most example writing is from international students in an ESL program or first-year writing class, including two sample papers: one in APA and one in MLA. A section on responding to instructor feedback provides students with the tools to read and understand comments and use them to improve the first draft. A subsection is dedicated to constructing clear and cohesive paragraphs and sentences. The guide includes citation and style examples in MLA 8th edition.
