Affectivity and Learning Pablo Fossa, Cristian Cortés-Rivera, 2023-07-27 This book presents an interdisciplinary approach to the study of affectivity and human learning by bridging the gap between neuroscience cultural and cognitive psychology It brings together studies that go beyond the focus on cognitive intellectual variables involved in learning processes and incorporate the study of the role played by affectivity and emotions in learning not only at educational settings but in all processes of transformation and human development thus presenting affectivity as a catalyst and mediator of all daily learning processes Chapters brought together in this contributed volume present both theoretical contributions and results of empirical research from different disciplines such as neuroscience cognitive psychology cultural psychology educational psychology developmental psychology and philosophy and are grouped into five thematic sections The first part of the book brings together chapters discussing different aspects of the role played by affectivity in learning processes from the perspectives of cultural educational and developmental psychology The second part is dedicated to the role of affectivity for teachers during their training as educators and during their pedagogical practice in diverse contexts The third part focuses on the relationship between affectivity and learning from a neuroscientific point of view The fourth part discusses affectivity and learning in therapeutic and clinical contexts Finally the fifth part brings together chapters about affectivity and learning in everyday life By bringing together this rich interdisciplinary collection of studies Affectivity and Learning Bridging the Gap Between Neurosciences Cultural and Cognitive Psychology will be a valuable resource for researchers in the fields of psychology neuroscience and education as well as for educators and teachers interested in knowing more about the relationship between affectivity and human learning The Writer's Handbook ..., 1910 The Writer's Book Editor, 1910

Historical Cognitive Linguistics Margaret E. Winters, Heli Tissari, Kathryn Allan, 2010-12-23 The volume explores the ways in which language change is studied within the framework of Cognitive Linguistics a semantics based theory of language production and perception The eleven chapters explore two kinds of changes firstly those which involve mental prototypes or best instances of particular concepts and extensions of these prototypes and secondly those which relate to conceptual networks for example via metaphor or metonymy More specifically the papers address syntactic and lexical change as well as the evolution of language and changes in the expression usually metaphoric of emotions In presenting a wide range of current work of this kind the volume demonstrates the value of cross fertilization between historical and cognitive linguistics and is intended to open the way for further related research The included papers are of particular relevance to those working in metaphor theory and syntactic semantic change within Cognitive Linguistics but will also be of interest to other historical linguists and those studying cognitive semantics and metaphor from a synchronic viewpoint Antaeus ,1980 Outlook ,1928 Social Notes
