Spoken Finnish:

Spoken Finnish Thomas Albert Sebeok, 1947      Ethnic Styles of Speaking in European Metropolitan Areas
Friederike Kern, Margret Selting, 2011-12-22 In recent years ethnic ways of speaking by young people with migrant background have become an important research object in sociolinguistics work on these ways of speaking has been prospering in many European countries This work is continued in the present volume with the aim of bringing together various research designs which explore the phenomenon from different perspectives correlational methodology of sociolinguistic research conversation analytical and interactional linguistic methodology and an ethnographic perspective on language use and the construction of social identities and social relations The aim of the volume is to explore the scope of these different methodologies and to provide a basis for the discussion and evaluation of the theories of language variation associated with them All papers focus on the description of the linguistic characteristics that constitute the non standard structures of ethnic styles of speaking and look into their various functions in discourse      Emotions in the Human Voice, Volume 1 Krzysztof Izdebski, 2007-12-03      Visualising Language Students and Teachers as Multilinguals Paula Kalaja, Sílvia Melo-Pfeifer, 2024-10-15 This book fosters an awareness of multilingualism as lived or as subjectively experienced from the perspective of those involved in language education and teacher education Responding to multilingual and visual turns it widens the repertoire of methodologies dominating the field of language teacher education from linguistic or verbal to visual The chapters written by practising language teachers and teacher educators explore aspects of multilingualism accessed through visual means in a wide range of contexts Using social justice as a transformative framework they highlight the biases inequalities and linguistic hierarchies within schools and teacher education and promote respect for linguistic plurality and cultural diversity in these settings They illustrate how visual methods can be used to reconstruct histories of individual multilingualism identify present language ideologies and support teachers professional development by means of envisioning the future self in action This book will be of interest to those involved in language education and language teacher education including researchers practising language teachers student or trainee teachers and teacher educators This book is Open Access under a CC BY NC ND license      Transitivity, Valency, and Voice Denis Creissels, 2025-01-21 This book explores three central concepts in clausal structure transitivity valency and voice Denis Creissels draws up a novel theoretical and terminological framework to study the considerable cross linguistic variation observed in these phenomena and to compare their manifestations in the grammars of individual languages      Historical Linguistics 1993 Henning Andersen, 1995-05-18 This volume contains a selection of 34 of the 96 papers presented at ICHL 1993 including several of the contributions to the workshop on Parameters and Typology organized jointly by Henning Andersen and David W Lightfoot Major topics represented are grammaticalization and functional renewal illustrated with changes in romance French Pennsylvania German Afrikaans English Finnish changes in syntax Indo European Indo Aryan Ancient Greek Romanian Spanish Portuguese

French Japanese Dutch English and discourse structure Old Russian Old French morphology German Turkic phonology Romance Italian French German Old English English Several papers include sociolinguistic areal and typological perspectives on change a few are specifically concerned with reconstruction or with the principles of reconstruction and several demonstrate the continued importance of the philological methods in the study of texts Up and Down the Cline--the Nature of Grammaticalization Olga Fischer, Muriel Norde, Harry Perridon, 2004-01-01 The basic idea behind this volume is to probe the nature of grammaticalization Its contributions focus on the following questions i In how far can grammaticalization be considered a universal diachronic process or mechanism of change and in how far is it conditioned by synchronic factors ii What is the role of the speaker in grammaticalization iii Does grammaticalization itself provide a cause for change or is it an epiphenomenon i e a conglomeration of causal factors mechanisms which elsewhere occur independently iv If it is epiphenominal how do we explain that similar pathways so often occur in known cases of grammaticalization v Is grammaticalization unidirectional vi What is the nature of the parameters guiding grammaticalization The overall aim of the book is to enrich our understanding of what grammaticalization does or does not entail via detailed case studies in combination with theoretical and methodological discussions

Generating Creative Language - Theories, Practice and Evaluation Mika Härmäläinen, 2020-10-08 This thesis presents approaches to computationally creative natural language generation focusing on theoretical foundations practical solutions and evaluation I defend that a theoretical definition is crucial for computational creativity and that the practical solution must closely follow the theoretical definition Finally evaluation must be based on the underlying theory and what was actually modelled in the practical solution A theoretical void in the existing theoretical work on computational creativity is identified The existing theories do not explicitly take into account the communicative nature of natural language Therefore a new theoretical framework is elaborated that identifies how computational creativity can take place in a setting that has a clear communicative goal This introduces a communicative creative trade off that sets limits to creativity in such a communicative context My framework divides creativity in three categories message creativity contextual creativity and communicative creativity Any computationally creative NLG approach not taking communicativity into account is called mere surface generation I propose a novel master apprentice approach for creative language generation The approach consists of a genetic algorithm the fitness functions of which correspond to different parameters defined as important for the creative task in question from a theoretical perspective The output of the genetic algorithm together with possible human authored data are used to train the apprentice which is a sequence to sequence neural network model The role of the apprentice in the system is to approximate creative autonomy Evaluation is approached from three different perspectives in this work ad hoc and abstract theory based and abstract and theory based and concrete The first perspective is the most common one in the current literature and its shortcomings are demonstrated and discussed This starts a gradual shift towards more meaningful evaluation by first using proper theories to define the task being modelled and finally reducing the room for subjective interpretation by suggesting the use of concrete evaluation questions
