Theory for Adult Learning and Teaching Stephen Brookfield, 2005 This contribution to the literature on adult education provides adult educators with an accessible overview of critical theory's central ideas Using many direct quotes from the theorists' works Brookfield shows how critical theory illuminates the everyday practices of adult educators and helps them make sense of the dilemmas, contradictions, and frustrations they experience in their work Drawing widely on central texts in critical theory Brookfield argues that a critical theory of adult learning must focus on understanding how adults learn to challenge ideology, contest hegemony, unmask power, overcome alienation, learn liberation, reclaim reason, and practice democracy These tasks form the focus of successive chapters while later chapters review the central contentions of critical theory through the contemporary lenses of race and gender The final chapter reviews adult educational practices and looks at what it means to teach critically

An Update on Adult Learning Theory Sharan B. Merriam, 1993 This volume of New Directions for Adult and Continuing Education presents discussions of well-established theories and new perspectives on learning in adulthood Knowles' andragogy, self-directed learning, Mezirow's perspective transformation, and several other models are assessed for their contribution to our understanding of adult learning In addition, recent theoretical orientations including consciousness and learning, situated cognition, critical theory, and feminist pedagogy are discussed in terms of how each expands the knowledge base of adult learning This is the 57th issue of the Jossey-Bass quarterly report series New Directions for Adult and Continuing Education

Interdisciplinary Handbook of Adult Lifespan Learning Jan D. Sinnott, 1994 This interdisciplinary handbook is the first to provide an overview of research and theory about formal and informal adult learning Jan Sinnott and a team of experts from different fields analyze and synthesize the state of the art today: how mature and aging adults learn and what their motivations are This major reference examines important theories and models, learning in specific life contexts, the influence of aging on learning, and the future of adult lifespan learning Extensive reference materials have been developed for students, teachers, policymakers, and practitioners to use in the fields of gerontology, psychology, education, and counseling

Adult Education in an Urban Context: Problems, Practices, and Programming for Inner-City Communities Larry G. Martin, Elice Rogers, 2004-04-07 This sourcebook offers adult education scholars and practitioners in academic, community, and work-related urban settings insight into the education and learning problems and needs confronted by low-income residents of inner-city communities Additionally, it offers fresh perspectives and approaches to practice that can assist these residents in crossing the socioeconomic and race/ethnicity borders that separate them from more affluent urban communities This is the 101st issue of the quarterly higher education series New Directions for Adult and Continuing Education
