Understanding what One Reads Jan Lambrecht,2003 In the course of his long and distinguished scholarly career Jan Lambrecht has been a prolific writer from both an academic and a pastoral perspective Since 1994 attempts have been in process to collect as many as possible of his shorter writings into volumes that would be more accessible resulting in four publications up to this point In 1994 many of Professor Lambrecht s writings on Paul appeared in Pauline Studies BETL 115 and together with some from his former student Reimund Bieringer in Studies on 2 Corinthians BETL 112 In 2001 upon completion of his teaching at the Biblicum he was honored with a volume of Collected Studies AnBibl 147 representing his then more recent works This volume as its full title indicates consists for the most part of studies on Pauline literature and the Book of Revelation but it also includes a short article on Christian freedom in 1 Peter In 2002 a collection of articles in Dutch some that had appeared previously and some new was published as De kracht van het geloof The Power of Belief Nonetheless there remain some of his works that have not yet been brought into a collection and important articles in the recent Dutch collection are not available to a wider audience This present offering attempts to address that situation Although the twenty two studies in the present volume have all been written or published relatively recently they are reflective of Professor Lambrecht s academic and pastoral interests over his entire career ranging from Mark s use of Matthew and possibly Q to the Book of Revelation and including Luke Acts and Paul Some of the writing is less technical because of the audience for which it was intended Thus within this volume there will be some writings that will challenge scholars to rethink some positions and others addressed to a more general audience This work is offered in the hope that the dialogue will continue and be fruitful in bringing forth old and new out of the treasure of the biblical writings Ecce Homo: How One Becomes What One Is Friedrich Nietzsche,2018-04-06 In late 1888 a few weeks before his descent into madness Friedrich Nietzsche set out to compose his life story Ecce Homo How One Becomes What One Is remains one of the most remarkable autobiographies ever written a powerful work of genius in which the German philosopher critiques his own works and those of others and weighs in on a plethora of subjects from mastering self control to female sexuality Seemingly trivial topics are interwoven into passages of complex reasoning on philosophical problems This most bizarre but fascinating of autobiographies is essential reading for students of Nietzsche and anyone looking for profound insights into life from one of the greatest thinkers of the Western world Saying What One Thinks Léa Salje,2025-02-24 Saying what one thinks can be difficult sometimes one knows that a thought is there but it takes time and effort to find its proper articulation This book is about articulatory self knowledge or the sort of knowledge about one s own mind that results from successful attempts to articulate evasive thoughts of this kind Rather than account for this phenomenon as mere verbal blockage or hermeneutical impoverishment Lea Salje argues that the obstacle to articulation in these cases has to do with the representational metaphysics of the thought When it first occurs the thought has the wrong representational format to serve as the content of a sentence work must be done on it before it can be uttered aloud What results is a picture of a little explored form of psychological self knowledge that reveals hidden parts of one s mind to oneself even as one goes about creating the thought in its new articulated form The final parts of the book explore the role of conversation in drawing out articulations of this kind and the possible expression of thoughts in art By the end of Saying What One Thinks articulatory self knowledge no longer looks like a mere quirk of our psychology but emerges as a central feature of distinctively human cognition The New Monthly Magazine ,1879 *Annual Report of the State Board of Health for the Fiscal Year Ending November 30 ...
