Transpacific Displacement:

Transpacific Displacement Yunte Huang, 2002-02-06 Yunte Huang has produced a fascinating study of what he calls textual travelling which is to say the transformation of poetic texts in this case Chinese ones at the hands of American scholars editors translators and especially poets This brave and highly original study is sure to raise controversy Marjorie Perloff author of Wittgenstein's Ladder

Transpacific Imaginations Yunte Huang, 2008-02-28 Transpacific Imaginations is a study of how American literature is enmeshed with the literatures of Asia The book begins with Western encounters with the Pacific Yunte Huang reads Moby Dick as a Pacific work looks at Henry Adams's not talking about his travels in Japan and the Pacific basin in his autobiography and compares Mark Twain to Liang Qichao Huang then turns to Asian American encounters with the Pacific concentrating on the Angel Island poems and on works by Theresa Hak Kyung Cha Lawson Fusao Inada and Araki Yasusada Huang's argument that the Pacific forms American literature more than is generally acknowledged is a major contribution to our understanding of literary history The book is in dialogue with cross cultural studies of the Pacific and with contemporary innovative poetics Huang has found a vehicle to join Asians and Westerners at the deepest level and that vehicle is poetry Poets can best imagine an ethical ground upon which different people join hands Huang asks us to contribute to this effort by understanding the poets and writers already in the process of linking diverse peoples

Poetics of Emptiness Jonathan Stalling, 2011-10-03 The Poetics of Emptiness uncovers an important untold history by tracing the historically specific intertextual pathways of a single if polyvalent philosophical term emptiness as it is transformed within twentieth century American poetry and poetics This conceptual migration is detailed in two sections The first focuses on transpacific Buddhist poetics while the second maps the less well known terrain of transpacific Daoist poetics In Chapters 1 and 2 the author explores Ernest Fenollosa s The Chinese Written Character as a Medium for Poetry as an expression of Fenollosa s distinctly Buddhist poetics informed by a two decade long encounter with a culturally hybrid form of Buddhism known as Shin Bukkyo New Buddhism Chapter 2 explores the classical Chinese poetics that undergirds the lost half of Fenellosa s essay Chapter 3 concludes the first half of the book with an exploration of the didactic and soteriological function of emptiness in Gary Snyder s influential poetry and poetics The second half begins with a critical exploration of the three decades long career of the poet translator critic Wai lim Yip whose transpacific Daoist poetics has been an important fixture in American poetic late modernism and has begun to gain wider notoriety in China The last chapter engages the intertextual weave of poststructural thought and Daoist and shamanistic discourses in Theresa Hak Kyung Cha s important body of heterocultural productions By formulating interpretive frames as hybrid as the texts being read this book makes available one of the most important yet still largely unknown stories of American poetry and poetics

Thanatic Ethics Bidisha Banerjee, Judith Misrahi-Barak, Thomas Lacroix, 2025-11-03 This book emerges from Thanatic Ethics The Circulation of Bodies in Migratory Spaces an interdisciplinary and transdisciplinary project uniting social scientists postcolonial scholars and artists worldwide to raise critical issues related to the death of migrants It urgently calls for migration studies to confront the consequences of Western governments restrictive and necropolitical migration policies The volume introduces thanatic ethics as a moral compass a code of conduct that re endows migrant deaths with meaning ensuring they are remembered and mourned Through diverse perspectives contributors examine how social practices political mobilizations and artistic and literary representations can serve dual purposes memorializing the dead while changing the gaze of the living on the unidentified dead Enhancing awareness in the wider community could lead to the overturning of current migration policies Thoughtfully organized into four sections the book first explores how oceanic waters have been constructed as bordering agents spaces of exclusion and death The second section focuses on the politics of death burial and mourning while the third confronts the fraught questions inherent to visualizing the Thanatic The concluding section advances essential conversations about care repair and restitution This essential text speaks to a diverse audience including scholars and students in migration studies postcolonial studies human rights ethics cultural studies literature and political science It will also prove valuable for policymakers human rights advocates artists and anyone concerned with the multi layered aspects of migration The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of Interventions International Journal of Postcolonial Studies

World Writing Mary Gallagher, 2008-08-16 Much has been said about the relationship between globalization and culture and the political implications of that relationship There has been little effort made however to investigate the effect of globalization on poetics or on the ethical moment of literature World Writing is therefore concerned with studying the intersection of contemporary ethics poetics and globalization through historical and critical readings of writing from various parts of the world Following an introductory chapter by Mary Gallagher which maps this conceptual terrain the contributors investigate how globalization inflects the necessary relationship between poetics culture ethics and politics Among the essays are Celia Britton s reading of douard Glissant on languages in the globalized world Mary Gallagher s comparison of Glissant s poetics of cultural diversity with the ethics of Emmanuel Levinas David Palumbo Liu s exploration of the ethics of postcolonial fiction in J M Coetzee s work Mary Louise Pratt s critique based on recent Latin American writing of the prematurely celebratory nature of globalization and Julia Kristeva s argument for the value of poetics and the ethics of hospitality What emerges is an intricate discussion of the elusive relationship between the realms of ethics poetics and politics as they intersect in our changing world seldom contain introductory information about the mediation that translation implies or the stakes involved in the transfer of cultural information. Instructors are often left to find their own material about the author or the culture of the source text. Lacking the appropriate pedagogical tools, they struggle to provide information about either the original work or about translation itself, and they might feel uneasy about teaching material for which they lack adequate preparation. Consequently, they restrict themselves to well-known works in translation or works from other countries originally written in English.

Literature in Translation: Teaching Issues and Reading Practices squarely addresses this pedagogical lack. The book's sixteen essays provide for instructors a context in which to teach works from a variety of languages and cultures in ways that highlight the effects of linguistic and cultural transfers. Chinese Literature, Essays, Articles, Reviews, 2002 Yearbook of Comparative and General Literature, 2003
