Leonora Navari

Travellers Eye:

Shelley's Eye Benjamin Colbert, 2017-03-02 Percy Bysshe Shelley joined the deluge of sightseers that poured onto the Continent after Napoleon's defeat in 1814 and over the next eight years Shelley followed major travelling trends visiting Switzerland in 1816 and Italy from 1818 Shelley's Eye is the first study to address Shelley's participation in the travel culture of Post-Napoleonic Europe and the first to consider Shelley as an important travel writer in his own right This book is informed by original research on a wide range of period travel writings including Mary Shelley and Shelley's neglected collaboration History of a Six Weeks Tour 1817 in which Mont Blanc first appeared Fully responsive to the culture of travel Shelley's travel prose and poetry form fascinating conversations with major Romantic travellers like Byron Wollstonecraft and Wordsworth as well as lesser known but widely read travel writers of the day including Morris Birkbeck Charlotte Eaton and John Chetwode Eustace In this provocative study Benjamin Colbert demonstrates how the Grand Tour remains a vital cultural metaphor for Shelley and his contemporaries under pressure from mass travel and popular culture Shelley's travel prose and visionary poetry explore motives of perception underlying travel discourse and posit an authentic aesthetic vision that reconfigures social historical and political meanings of sights from the perspective of an ideal tourist observer Shelley's Eye offers a new perspective on Shelley's intellectual history It is also a timely and important contribution to recent interdisciplinary scholarship that aims to re-evaluate Romantic idealism in the context of physical experiential or material cultural practices

Travel, Pilgrimage and Social Interaction from Antiquity to the Middle Ages Jenni Kuuliala, Jussi Rantala, 2019-10-10

Mobility and travel have always been key characteristics of human societies having various cultural social and religious aims and purposes Travels shaped religions and societies and were a way for people to understand themselves this world and the transcendent This book analyses travelling in its social context in ancient and medieval societies Why did people travel how did they travel and what kind of communal networks and negotiations were inherent in their travels Travel was not only the privilege of the wealthy or the male but people from all social groups genders and physical abilities travelled Their reasons to travel varied from profane to sacred but often these two were intermingled in the reasons for travelling The chapters cover a long chronology from Antiquity to the end of the Middle Ages offering the reader insights into the developments and continuities of travel and pilgrimage as a phenomenon of vital importance

Perceptions of Health, Illness and the Body in Medieval and Early Modern Europe Anni Hella, Anu

Korhonen, 2026-04-22 Cultural Perceptions of Health Illness and Medicine in Medieval and Early Modern Europe explores the rich cultural history of bodily experience through diverse case studies spanning from Italy to Sweden and from England to the Levant How did medieval and early modern Europeans experience and understand sickness and health How did they interact with health professionals and authorities and which cultural and social networks shaped their understanding of wellness and illness Drawing from extensive primary sources this book examines how people of the past navigated their bodies vulnerabilities both at home and abroad It reveals how they consulted and challenged medical and civic authorities while seeking both physical and spiritual healing through religious practice Covering a broad temporal span from the fourteenth to the nineteenth century this collection of essays reimagines the role of material bodies and their social and emotional significance in medieval and early modern cultural history The work offers fresh insights into the intersection of medicine culture and society across five centuries of European experience

British Travel Writers in Morocco, 1856–1937 Lahoucine

Aammari, 2026-01-05 British Travel Writers in Morocco 1856 1937 Discursive Encounters reflects the growing academic interest in travel writing as a literary genre shaped by colonial and imperial motivations that transcend both literary canons and geographical boundaries The book offers a compelling overview of British travelogues about Morocco during the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries providing new insights for Maghrebi and postcolonial studies Owing to its interdisciplinary nature the travelogue genre surpasses traditional borders to present elaborate and critically engaging accounts of the various though often asymmetric physical and discursive encounters that occurred during both the pre colonial and colonial periods The critical and intellectual significance of this genre is informed by post structuralist colonialist and modernist theories with their diverse analytical tools as well as by the postcolonial commitment to interrogate colonial legacies and archives The book analyzes a group of texts written by British travellers in Morocco between 1856 and 1937 including Walter B Harris Robert S Watson Joseph Thomson Hugh Stutfield Frances Macnab and Richard C Woodville among others These travel writers provide substantial and heterogeneous accounts that meticulously record describe and translate the constitution and evolution of Britain's cultural imaginary and consciousness of Morocco its dissemination of human civilisation and its imperial ambitions assumptions and rhetoric
