Energy Conservation Update ,1980 Solar Energy Update ,1982 Systems Analysis for the Development of Small Resource Recovery Systems. Executive Summary ,1980 In response to the increasing need for small scale solid waste processing facilities the US DOE contracted with Systems Technology Corporation SYSTECH to identify the technologies that should be developed to make such facilities attractive to and viable for small municipalities with solid waste between 50 and 250 tons per day TPD In addition to identifying candidate technologies SYSTECH applied a set of criteria to them to determine those that could best satisfy the existing market conditions The criteria included costs of the alternative landfill disposal material and energy prices developmental status of the technology and environmental impact of the systems The system types studied included those with mechanical separation thermal and thermochemical energy recovery and bioconversion processes For these studies the performance of each system was simulated by a mathematical model After the systems were evaluated the most promising were analyzed to determine which components and operating parameters had the greatest impact on system viability Accordingly the research and development R and D needs to advance the state of the art for small scale solid waste processing facilities were identified The study results are documented in four volumes 1 Executive Summary 2 Description of Solid Waste Modular Simulator 3 Research and Development Needs and 4 System Performance Data Small-Scale Municipal Solid Waste Energy Recovery Systems Brickner Gershman,1986 This volume is designed to give local government elected officials and their staff the background information they need on the state of the art in small scale municipal waste to energy project development It will of course be of interest to many others in the field The small scale segment of the municipal waste energy recovery industry has grown and changed in many ways in recent years With increasingly stringent environmental regulations pushing up the costs of landfilling as well as today s higher prices for oil and natural gas the economics of small scale systems are attractive to smaller communities or counties which might at one time only have considered joining a multijurisdictional large scale project The difficulties involved in developing a project that envelops numerous governmental entities are discouraging and a small local project may be more readily achievable Gershman Brickner Bratton Inc hopes this book will be of assistance to those who are considering such a project providing guidance and encouragement as well as practical information on technologies economics energy markets financing environmental issues and the pitfalls of project development PAS Memo American Planning Association.
