Justice and Power is an oral history of Mexican American activism in San Jose, California over the last half century. The authors present interviews of 14 people of various stripes: teachers, politicians, radio personalities who have been influential in the development of a major urban center with a significant ethnic population. These activists tell the stories of their lives and work with engaging openness and honesty, allowing readers to witness their successes and failures. This vivid ethnography of a Mexican American community serves as a model for activism wherever ethnic groups seek change and justice.

Chicano Cinema Research Reviews and Resources is the first book dedicated to the subject of both Chicano cinema and the depiction of Chicanos and other Latinos in U.S. and Mexican films. Contributors to the volume include Jesus Salvador Trevino, Sylvia Morales, David R. Maciel, Alejandro Morales, Carlos Cortes, and other notable scholars. The Chicanos Fausto Avendaño, 1979. This enlightening collection of original writings is one of the first attempts by Chicanos to answer the question: Where do we come from and where are we going? Thirteen Chicano scholars draw upon their personal experiences and expertise to paint a vivid, colorful portrait of what it means to be a Chicano. We have come a long way, says the editor of this volume, from the time when the Mexican silently accepted the stereotype drawn of him by the outsider. In these twelve compositions, says Trejo, our purpose is not to talk to ourselves but to open a dialogue among all concerned people. The personal reactions on Chicano women's struggles, political experiences, bicultural education, and history provide a wealth of information for laymen as well as scholars. In addition, the book provides the most complete recorded definition of the Chicano Movement, what it has accomplished, and its goals for the future.

Back cover: The Making of a Chicano Militant José Angel Gutiérrez, 1998. Texas for years was a one-party state controlled by white democrats. In 1962, a young eighteen-year-old heard the first rumblings of Chicano community organization in the barrios of Cristal. The rumor in the town was that five Mexican Americans were going to run for all five seats on the city council. But first, poor citizens had to find a way to pay the 1.75 poll tax. Money had to be raised through bake sales, tamales, cake walks, and dances. So began the political activism of José Angel Gutiérrez. Gutiérrez's autobiography, The Making of a Chicano Militant, is the first insider's view of the important political and social events within the Mexican American communities in South Texas during the 1960s and 1970s. A controversial and dynamic political figure during the height of the Chicano movement, Gutiérrez offers an absorbing personal account of his life at the forefront of the Mexican American civil rights movement, first as a Chicano and then as a militant. Gutiérrez traces the racial, ethnic, economic, and social prejudices facing Chicanos with powerful scenes from his own life: his first summer job as a tortilla maker at the age of eleven, his racially motivated kidnapping as a teenager, and his coming of age in the face of discrimination as a radical organizer in college and graduate school When Gutierrez finally returned to Cristal he helped form the Mexican American Youth Organization and subsequently the Raza Unida Party to confront issues of ethnic intolerance in his community His story is soon to be a classic in the developing literature of Mexican American leaders
