Smithsonian Atlas of Space Exploration Roger D. Launius, Andrew K. Johnston, 2009-05-26 In the history of space exploration there have been many leaps for humankind From the foremost experts at the Smithsonian's National Air and Space Museum here is a complete visual narrative of our journey from Earth to the stars Although the momentous October 4 1957 launch of Sputnik 1 was not the beginning of humanity's adventure toward space our curiosity about the skies has been one of the few constants in history it was the first true venture into orbit And when future generations think of the twentieth century they will undoubtedly judge our movement into space with both machines and people as a crowning achievement As we progress in the new millennium space exploration is vital to managing our global future as well as to understanding our past and the creation of Earth The Atlas of Space Exploration depicts the ever fascinating history of the space age and humanity's progress in exploring new frontiers Incredible images from NASA and other sources visual conceptions of Moon bases and newly commissioned maps reveal a visual history spanning the earliest eras of the universe the dawn of the space age the launch of Sputnik missions to the Moon robot landings on the terrestrial planets and the exploration of the outer solar system These developments in technology are illuminated by a rich historical context highlighting how space exploration has changed and expanded our vision of the universe

The History of Space Exploration Roger D. Launius, 2018 For centuries humanity has engaged in a virtual exploration of space through astronomical observation aided by astounding scientific and technological advances In more than sixty years since the launch of Sputnik 1 in 1957 more than 6 000 functioning satellites have been launched into Earth's orbit and beyond some to the farthest reaches of the Solar System and more than 540 people have travelled into space Unprecedented in its chronological and geographical scope this book charts the history of space exploration from the first gunpowder rockets through the Moon landings and into a future of space tourism Numerous sidebars focus on the key individuals and inventions that brought us closer to the farthest reaches of the universe Filled with astonishing images from the Smithsonian NASA archives and other international collections this is the first in depth fully illustrated survey of this universal human journey
