Reading Race Relationally Marlon Lieber, 2023-04-03 What does it mean to write African American literature after the end of legalized segregation In this study of Colson Whitehead's first six novels Marlon Lieber argues that this question has permeated the Pulitzer Prize winning author's writing since his 1999 debut The Intuitionist Drawing on Pierre Bourdieu's relational sociology and Marxist critical theory Lieber shows that Whitehead's oeuvre articulates the tension between the persistent presence of racism and transformations in the United States class structure which reveals new modes of abjection At the same time Whitehead imagines forms of writing that strive to transcend the histories of domination objectified in social structures and embodied in the form of habitus

Poetics of Politics Sebastian M. Herrmann, Carolin Alice Hofmann, Katja Kanzler, Stefan Schubert, Frank Usbeck, 2015-04-22 This volume proposes the poetics of politics as an analytic angle to interrogate contemporary cultural production in the United States As recent scholarship has observed American literature and culture around the turn of the millennium while still deeply informed by the textual self-consciousness of postmodernism are marked by a rekindled interest in matters of social concern This revived interest in politics is frequently read as a grand epochal transition Sidestepping such a logic of periodization this book points to the interplay between the textual and the political as a dynamic always locally specific that affords unique insights into the characteristics of the contemporary moment The sixteen case studies in this book explore this interplay across a wide range of media genres and modes Together they make visible a broad cultural concern with negotiating social relevance and textual self-awareness that permeates and structures contemporary US popular culture
