The Devil In Clevely:

The Devil in Clevely Norah Lofts, 2012-09-01 Sir Charles Augustus Shelmadine was an autocrat He ruled his village with a firm but kindly hand instructing his tenants on their crops their children and their love affairs When he died and the new Squire came the village stirred uneasily For the new Squire had strange ideas and even stranger friends people like Mr Mundford who never seemed to grow any older and whose name was linked with the terrible Hell Fire Club Mr Mundford was interested in too many things that should not have concerned him like the ruins of the old Roman temple where the rites of Mithras had once been enacted and in the silent amber eyed young woman called Damask Greenaway Damask was the daughter of a Bible thumping Christian But when she lost the love of her life she turned against all she had been raised to believe and a strange power possessed her a power to make people do what she pleased It was this power that Mr Mundford was hoping to harness on that most powerful of nights All Hallow s Eve The Devil in Clevely Norah Lofts, 1968 The Princess of Cleve, Etc Nathaniel Lee, 1697

Quintus Servinton Henry Savery, 2003 Australia s convict past is never far away in Tasmania where elegant stone bridges the Georgian warehouses of Salamanca Place and the eerie ruins of Port Arthur are testimony to the back breaking work and the hard lives endured by those sentenced to transportation Quintus Servinton is another reminder of those cruel days Subtitled a tale founded on incidents of real occurrence the book is a loosely autobiographical story of a wayward fifth son like Savery Quintus Servinton 1830 is credited as being the first Australian novel which despite its dubious literary merit gives it unique status Henry Savery was born in 1791 in Somerset He arrived in Hobart in 1825 having been sentenced to transportation for forgery He might be completely unknown today had he not had a penchant for writing Savery was released from servitude in 1832 having already published his major work At Port Arthur guides tell the story that he then sent for his wife but she had an affair with a magistrate on the boat out and returned to England having been rejected by her husband Savery was entrusted with banking work and tempted to re offend He appeared before the magistrate who had seduced his wife and was sent to the notorious penal settlement Port Arthur where he died in 1842 A Book of the Rhine from Cleve to Mainz Sabine Baring-Gould, 1906 The Bitter Bread of Banishment Henry Savery, 1984 The Annual Obituary, 1983
