The Rebel 3:

Casablanca's Conscience Robert Weldon Whalen, 2024-02-06 A new look at a beloved classic film that explores the philosophical dynamics of Casablanca Celebrating its eightieth anniversary this year Casablanca remains one of the world's most enduringly favorite movies It won three Academy Awards for Best Picture Best Director and Best Adapted Screenplay It is still commonly quoted We'll always have Paris and Here's looking at you kid And who can forget You must remember this a kiss is just a kiss Yet no one expected much to come of this little film certainly not its blockbuster stars or even the studio producing it So how did this hastily cranked out 1940s film despite its many limitations become one of the greatest films ever made How is it that year after year decade after decade it continues to appear in the lists of the greatest movies ever produced And why do audiences still weep when Rick and Ilsa part The answer according to Casablanca's Conscience is to paraphrase Rick It's true Much has already been written about the film and the career defining performances of Bogart and Bergman Casablanca is an epic tale of love betrayal and sacrifice set against the backdrop of World War II Yet decades later it continues to capture the imagination of filmgoers In Casablanca's Conscience author Robert Weldon Whalen explains why it still resonates so deeply Applying a new lens to an old classic Whalen focuses on the film's timeless themes Exile Purgatory Irony Love Resistance and Memory He then engages the fictional characters Rick Ilsa and the others against the philosophical and theological discourse of their real contemporaries Hannah Arendt Dietrich Bonhoeffer and Albert Camus The relationships between fictional and historical persons illuminate both the film's era as well as perennial human concerns Both the film and the work of the philosophers explore dimensions of the human experience which while extreme are familiar to everyone It's the themes that resonate with the viewer that have sustained it as an evergreen classic all these years
