The Redheaded Outfield and Other Base Zane Grey, 2014-01-01 There was Delaney's red-haired trio: Red Gilbat, left fielder; Reddy Clammer, right fielder; and Reddie Ray, center fielder, composing the most remarkable outfield ever developed in minor league baseball. It was Delaney's pride as it was also his trouble. Red Gilbat was nutty and his batting average was .371. Any student of baseball could weigh these two facts against each other and understand something of Delaney's trouble. It was not possible to camp on Red Gilbat's trail. The man was a jack-o-lantern, a will-o-the-wisp, a weird, long-legged, long-armed, red-haired, illusive phantom. When the gong rang at the ball grounds, there were ten chances to one that Red would not be present. He had been discovered with small boys peeping through knotholes at the vacant left field; he was supposed to inhabit during play. Of course, what Red did off the ball grounds was not so important as what he did on. And there was absolutely no telling what under the sun he might do, then, except once out of every three times at bat, he could be counted on to knock the cover off the ball.

The Redheaded Outfield Zane Grey, 2021-03-14 It was the most critical time I had yet experienced in my career as a baseball manager. And there was more than the usual reason why I must pull the team out. A chance for a business deal depended upon the good will of the stockholders of the Worcester club. On the outskirts of the town was a little cottage that I wanted to buy, and this depended upon the business deal. My whole future happiness depended upon the little girl I hoped to install in that cottage. Coming to the Worcester Eastern League team, I had found a strong aggregation and an enthusiastic following. I really had a team with pennant possibilities. Providence was a strong rival, but I beat them three straight in the opening series, set a fast pace, and likewise set Worcester baseball mad. The Eastern League clubs were pretty evenly matched.

still I continued to hold the lead until misfortune overtook me Gregg smashed an umpire and had to be laid off Mullaney got spiked while sliding and was out of the game Ashwell sprained his ankle and Hirsch broke a finger Radbourne my great pitcher hurt his arm on a cold day and he could not get up his old speed Stringer who had batted three hundred and seventy one and led the league the year before struck a bad spell and could not hit a barn door handed up to him The Redheaded Outfield and Other Baseball Stories - Primary Source Edition Zane Grey,2013-09 This is a reproduction of a book published before 1923 This book may have occasional imperfections such as missing or blurred pages poor pictures errant marks etc that were either part of the original artifact or were introduced by the scanning process We believe this work is culturally important and despite the imperfections have elected to bring it back into print as part of our continuing commitment to the preservation of printed works worldwide We appreciate your understanding of the imperfections in the preservation process and hope you enjoy this valuable book
