What Is Architecture:

What Is Architecture? Paul Shepheard,2013-03-25 British architect and critic Paul Shepheard is a fresh new voice in current postmodern debates about the history and meaning of architecture In this wonderfully unorthodox quasi novelistic essay complete with characters and dialogue but no plot Shepheard draws a boundary around the subject of architecture describing its place in art and technology its place in history and its place in our lives now At a time when it is fashionable to say that architecture is everything from philosophy to science to art to theory Shepheard boldly and irreverently sets limits to the subject so that we may talk about architecture for what it is He takes strong positions names the causes of the problems and tells us how bad things are and how they can get better Along the way he marshals some unlikely but plausible witnesses who testify about the current state of architecture Instead of the usual claims or complaints by the usual suspects these observations are of an altogether different order Constructed as a series of fables many of them politically incorrect What is Architecture is a refreshing meditation on the options hopes possibilities and failures of shelter in society   What is Architecture? Andrew Ballantyne,2013-11-05 Architecture can influence the way we feel and can help us along as we go about our lives or sabotage our habitual ways of doing things The essays collected here challenge and help to define a view of architecture which ranges from the minimal domesticity of Diogenes barrel to the exuberant experiments of the contemporary avant garde There are essays by philosophers architects and art historians including Roger Scruton Bernard Tschumi Demetri Pophyrios Kenneth Frampton Diane Ghirardo and David Goldblatt   What is 'architecture;' Maurice Smith,1969   Architect and Engineer ,1920   Architecture ,1908   The Architect & Building News ,1930   Works of John Ruskin: Seven lamps of architecture.
