Ground Control Savannah Mandel, 2024-07-16 In the 1960s and 70s America spent 24 billion around 150 billion in today's dollars to land humans on the moon and win the space race And while humans took their first steps on an extraterrestrial landscape protesters at Cape Canaveral asked Why waste money on space when there are so many issues here on Earth More than 50 years later an oligopoly of commercial space companies SpaceX Blue Origin and Virgin Galactic has begun sending civilians into space These civilians are the first generation of what will undoubtedly be an extensive family of space tourists Commercial space companies aim to expand access to space find new sources of energy mine outer space resources and conquer extraterrestrial lands But their goals remain that of a capitalist and imperialist class intent on new frontier profiteering Savannah Mandel uses cultural anthropology to trace the trajectory of the space industry as it faces the social political and economic repercussions of commercial space ventures head on In doing so Mandel holds the space industry accountable for its actions by asking the same questions that some thought leaders asked in the 1960s Should we go Is it worth it to send humans to space What cultural outcomes will result from continued human space exploration and the colonization of other worlds And last what can we learn about our present selves by studying our most extreme visions of the future
