History Painting Crossing Borders, A Transnational History of Modern Art in Early Twentieth-Century China and Japan Stephanie Su,2025-11-24 If the goal of art history is to elucidate the politics of difference does it matter when artworks look alike How do we account for historical connections across regions in particular East Asia if works are viewed from a purely nationalistic perspective History painting is typically interpreted within nationalist frameworks History Painting Crossing Borders instead asks a series of provocative questions about the meaning and purpose of art and interpretation Weaving together a diverse range of materials in Chinese Japanese and French Stephanie Su showcases a transnational history of modern art in East Asia by centering two pioneering artists in Japan and China Nakamura Fusetsu and Xu Beihong as key examples of the limits of nationalism and the significance of cross cultural contexts The pair s similar training historical consciousness and subject matter made their early works resemble one another Nevertheless their legacies are in stark contrast Fusetsu is almost forgotten in Japan but Xu has been canonized in China By tracing their careers from East Asia to France and back this book highlights a previously underexamined moment in global art history and uncovers a crucial relationship between art practice and art historical writing Bringing together aesthetics literature gender studies and geopolitics History Painting Crossing Borders charts a new path for thinking about the multilayered and multidirectional histories of modern art in East Asia
