Angry Voices Mohamed

Metwalli, 2003-01-01 A new movement is emerging in Egyptian literature urban in its energies cosmopolitan in its national Arabic and western influences and independent and rowdy in its voice For centuries Arabic literature mandated traditional unchanging highly structured language and forms In the 1960s and 1970s writers rebelled to write in a variety of vernaculars Now young Egyptian poets are inventing new ways of writing Rejecting both traditional Arabic formalism and the vernacular rebellion and contradictorily drawing equally on these traditions and others they radically combine and recombine influences and bring new experiences into their poetry They embrace experimentation Rejected at first by the literary establishment these poets founded their own magazines one of which appropriated a derisive term that had been used to dismiss them Locusts Now one of Egypt s most honored translators and writers has joined with one of those Locusts to gather a selection of this postmodern writing in one place for the first time With its edginess and play of styles this collection showcases a dynamic emergent scene

Scene Thinking Benjamin Woo, Stuart

Poyntz, Jamie Rennie, 2018-04-19 How is cultural activity shaped by the places where it unfolds One answer has been found in the scenes perspective a development within popular music studies that explains change and transformation within musical practices in terms of the social and institutional histories of scenes Scene Thinking Cultural Studies from the Scenes Perspective takes up this framework and the mode of analysis that goes with it as an important contribution to cultural analysis and social research more generally In a series of focused case studies ranging across practices like drag kinging Bangladeshi underground music urban arts interventions and sites like single performance venues urban neighbourhoods in various states of gentrification and virtual networks of game consoles in countless living rooms the authors demonstrate how scene thinking can enrich cultural studies inquiry As a humanistic empirically oriented alternative to network based social ontologies thinking in terms of scenes sensitizes researchers to complex fluid processes that are nonetheless anchored and made meaningful at the level of lived experience This book was originally published as a special issue of Cultural Studies
