Whose Children:

Assigning Responsibility for Children's Health When Parents and Authorities Disagree: Whose Child? Allan J. Jacobs, 2021-10-25 This book provides a multidisciplinary analysis of the potential conflict between a government's duty to protect children and a parent's right to raise children in a manner they see fit Using philosophical bioethical and legal analysis the author engages with key scholars in pediatric decision making and individual and religious rights theory Going beyond the parent child dyad the author is deeply concerned both with the interests of the broader society and with the appropriate limits of government interference in the private sphere The text offers a balance of individual and population interests maximizing liberty but safeguarding against harm Bioethics and law professors will therefore be able to use this text for both a foundational overview as well as specific subject level analysis Clinicians such as pediatricians and gynecologists as well as policy makers can use this text to achieve balance between these often competing claims The book is written by a physician with practical and theoretical knowledge of the subject and deep sympathy for the parental and family perspectives As such the book proposes a new way of evaluating parental and state interventions in children's healthcare a refreshing approach and a useful addition to the literature

Working with Children Who Need Long-term Respiratory Support Dr Jaqui Hewitt-Taylor, 2012 This book discusses many of the day to day needs of children who require long term respiratory support This includes their physical requirements but also their emotional social and educational needs and the needs of their families The medical and technical aspects of these children's care can seem overwhelming However arguably the more complex and challenging parts of their management concern things that are not directly related to their physical care such as facilitating their social needs and education This book aims to discuss all the aspects of care that such children and their families need
