Arctic Convoys 1942 Mark Lardas,2022-09-15 A new history of the most crucial few months of the Arctic Convoys when Germany's air power forced the Allies to retreat to the cover of winter Between spring and autumn 1942 Germany was winning the battle of the Arctic Convoys Half of PQ 15 was sunk in May PQ 17 was virtually obliterated in July and in September 30 percent of PQ 18 was sunk The Allies were forced to suspend the convoys until December when the long Arctic nights would shield them Mark Lardas argues that in 1942 it was Luftwaffe air power that made the difference With convoys sailing in endless daylight German strike aircraft now equipped and trained for torpedo attacks and bases in northern Norway available the Luftwaffe could wreak havoc Three quarters of the losses of PQ 18 were due to air attacks But in November the Luftwaffe was redeployed south to challenge the Allied landings in North Africa and the advantage was lost Despite that the Allies never again sailed an Arctic convoy in the summer months Fully illustrated with archive photos striking new artwork maps and diagrams this is the remarkable history of the Luftwaffe's last strategic victory of World War II
