

SOUND RECORDING PRACTICE

A photograph of a recording studio. In the foreground, a person with short hair, wearing a light-colored t-shirt, is seated and looking at a large, complex mixing console. The console is filled with numerous sliders, buttons, and knobs. In the background, there is a computer monitor displaying some software, and a large black studio monitor with a red tweeter. The room is dimly lit with warm, orange-toned lights, creating a professional and focused atmosphere.
