Song Of Muhammad Sal:

A Song of Muhammad M. R. Bawa Muhaiyaddeen, 1995 The Female Voice in Sufi Ritual Shemeem Burney Abbas, 2010-06-04 The female voice plays a more central role in Sufi ritual especially in the singing of devotional poetry than in almost any other area of Muslim culture Female singers perform sufiana kalam or mystical poetry at Sufi shrines and in concerts folk festivals and domestic life while male singers assume the female voice when singing the myths of heroines in gawwali and sufiana kalam Yet despite the centrality of the female voice in Sufi practice throughout South Asia and the Middle East it has received little scholarly attention and is largely unknown in the West This book presents the first in depth study of the female voice in Sufi practice in the subcontinent of Pakistan and India Shemeem Burney Abbas investigates the rituals at the Sufi shrines and looks at women s participation in them as well as male performers use of the female voice The strengths of the book are her use of interviews with both prominent and grassroots female and male musicians and her transliteration of audio and videotaped performances Through them she draws vital connections between oral culture and the written Sufi poetry that the musicians sing for their audiences This research clarifies why the female voice is so important in Sufi practice and underscores the many contributions of women to Sufism and its rituals Sacred Spaces and Transnational Networks in American Sufism Merin Shobhana Xavier, 2018-03-22 This book sheds light on the Bawa Muhaiyaddeen Fellowship BMF one of North America s major Sufi movements and one of the first to establish a Sufi shrine in the region It provides the first comprehensive overview of the BMF offering new insight into its historical development and practices and charting its establishment in both the United States and Sri Lanka Through ethnographic research Sacred Spaces and Transnational Networks in American Sufism shows that the followers of Bawa in the United States and Sri Lanka share far more similarities in the relationships they formed with spaces Bawa and Sufism than differences This challenges the accepted conceptualization of Sufism in North America as having a distinct Americanness and prompts scholars to re consider how Sufism is developing in the modern American landscape as well as globally The book focuses on the transnational spaces and ritual activities of Bawa s communities mapping parallel shrines and pilgrimages It examines the roles of culture religion and gender and their impact on ritual embodiment drawing attention to the global range of a Sufi community through engagement with its distinct Muslim Hindu Jewish and Christian followers Amar Aiyaar King of Tricksters Sulaiman Ahmad, 2013-02-10 AND THE TRICKSTERS OF THE WORLD WILL CALL HIM THEIR KING There s never a dull moment with Amar Aiyaar master of mischief perpetrator of pranks con artist with a conscience trickster beyond compare As the loyal companion of Ameer Hamza the illustrious warrior from Arabia Amar bravely and brazenly defeats every trap and overcomes every challenge standing up to king sorcerer and commoner alike Right from childhood it s clear that Amar the son of a camel driver is born to humble even emperors with his audacity and sharp wit As Hamza s army is magicked away into prison in Tilism e Hoshruha the land of sorcery that stuns the senses it falls upon Amar to rescue them

Using his cunning and his blessed bag of tricks Amar Aiyar blazes his way through the most extraordinary adventures with aplomb. Of course he never ignores a chance to add to his fortunes with a greedy eye on every purse of gold. At once roguish and honourable superhero and villain Amar Aiyar is one of the most colourful characters in traditional storytelling in India. In the age-old great dastan of Tilism-e-Hoshruha his is one of the most exciting and unforgettable stories of all time.

Calcutta Gazette Bengal (India), 1928 Sentimental Songs, Melodrama and Filmic Narrative in Bollywood's Golden Age (1951-1963) Jasmine Sofia Jannif, 2026-01-13

The considerably large critical literature on Bollywood cinema is marked by an absence as it has not engaged fully with the ways in which songs lead to the memorial construction of films and how a spectator connects with films through their songs. The studies tended to deflect the emotional dimension of songs, their internal lyrical structure and their intertextual connections in favour of readings that treat songs as subsidiary to other formal elements. Consequently, there was little understanding of songs and their complex relationship with the narrative of the film. To address this absence, this book begins by taking a look at the prior history of Bollywood songs since the arrival of talkies with the film Alam Ara 1931. The chapter takes the reader through the journey of film songs from synchronous singing and music during production to non-diegetic music and the playback singer. In addition, the somewhat disparate filmic milieu of history, emotion and ethics, much of which are drawn from traditional texts, served to affirm the values of a secular India. Melodrama, mediated via Indian theories of sentimentality, became one of the key colonial discourses through which the politico-social order was critiqued and Indianness celebrated. The book then raises the question: Can one speak about periods? After defending periodisation in this instance because it does have heuristic value, the argument is given added support by positing melodrama as the dominant dramatic mode of Indian Hindi Bollywood cinema of the Golden Age. The term melodrama is used to designate a film genre marked by sentimental songs that appeal to the heightened emotions of the spectator. Because emotionality is central to the concept of melodrama, a consideration of how emotions may be theorised is also given. The Indian classical concept of rasa is examined to provide a theoretical frame that is both historical and indigenous. Sentimental and melodramatic emotion ultimately enhanced cinema's ethical role in building a post-colonial nation, a nation that was emerging from the trauma of partition as well as the excesses of colonisation. However, by focusing with a holistic lens on the period in question, the Golden Age, the book finesses the value of periodisation in this instance. Frame analyses of a sample of song sequences from a variety of films are used to demonstrate the roles of various song registers and the way these different registers, as identified in the appendices, work within the narrative. The argument for a connection between songs and narrative in the period is strengthened by an examination of the elements of song picturisation, most notably body movement, mise en sc nes, lyrics, vocal expression, lighting, shots and music. A close examination of these elements reinforced the links between felt emotion and the melodramatic form in the Golden Age. Furthermore, it is argued that while Indian theories of emotional responses, notably rasa theory, recognised the place of cathartic outpouring in any dramatic presentation the shape and structure of Bollywood cinema was indebted to the melodramatic imaginary that came to India with British colonisation The archival material on English novels read in colonial times indicated that novels dealing with the man of feeling novels such as Henry Mackenzie s The Man of Feeling 1771 and Oliver Goldsmith s The Vicar of Wakefield 1766 provided the melodramatic structures within which native structures of feeling as in the varied rasas may be given felt presence That structure and its emotional pulling power dictated cinema and especially the cinema of the Golden Age There are direct links between Devdas 1935 a seminal film based on a sentimental Bengali novel and Pyaasa 1957 and these links speak to the presence of English discourses of sentimentality Such was their pervasive power indeed their affective intensities and strength that no film of the Golden Age of Bollywood escaped from their enervating and ineluctable presence The argument of the book as indicated above is followed through with references to many films The instance of the Islamicate film Mughal e Azam 1960 is taken up as an example of the power and pervasiveness of the melodramatic temper and the role of songs even when the cinematic genre is that of an epic A close paradigmatic reading of this film shows how the evocative power of sentimentality emotional capital and the genre of melodrama invades an historical narrative and transforms history To give greater depth to the place of songs sentimentality and melodrama the book turns to the two exceptional auteurs of the Golden Age Raj Kapoor and Guru Dutt Between them these two auteurs demonstrate a range of filmic articulations of songs in Hindi cinema and their films illustrate in an exemplary fashion the role of songs in carrying the melodramatic and sentimental narrative of a film The Hindi film auteur as producer director and actor not only imposes his special style on his films but is visible on the screen itself This book is primarily concerned with songs from the Golden Age of Hindi cinema 1951-1963 a period in Hindi film history when emotion sentiment and melodrama were regularly combined to create affective intensities The registers moods and in some cases ragas of songs have been examined over a broad corpus of examples to identify their effect on the spectator their role in the narrative of the film and their thematisation associated with specific emotional states In so doing the book theorises sentimentality and melodrama in the context of Hindi film songs to more fully identify the nature of sentimentality and to more fully understand the way songs play a role in the melodramatic form
