Atherton, 2023-10-13 First published in 1989 Interpreting Residential Life raises questions like a what makes residential establishments tick b what is going on beneath the surface of the daily routine c why is change so difficult to create and even more difficult to sustain and d how can residential social workers evaluate their work James Atherton provides a set of tools to enable residential workers to answer these questions in their own establishments Simply and directly he provides a framework which shows how policy and practice relate to each other and reinforce or hinder each other in crises as well as in routines He examines the whole residential establishment as a social system concentrating on daily life within it and demonstrating how values are implicit in all aspects of practice He draws on the experiences of residential staff at all levels to uncover the working myths and offers ways of understanding how establishments function and indicates the pathways to change This is an essential read for students of social work and sociology

The Antichrist legend, Engl. with a prologue on the Babylonian dragon myth by A.H. Keane Johann Franz Wilhelm Bousset,1896 Deliver Us from Evil Richard H. Bell,2007 My initial goal was to write a book on the defeat of Satan in New Testament theology covering all the witnesses of the New Testament using a title such as falling like lightning But it became evident that although the defeat of Satan is central to the exorcisms of the synoptic gospels many authors of the New Testament simply do not speak explicitly about a defeat of Satan For example Paul Ephesians and Colossians if they explicitly speak of the devil or allude to him speak instead of being redeemed from the dominion of Satan I therefore moved more in the direction of considering how the human being is redeemed from the effects of Satan Preface
