Unsettling Sights Corinn Columpar, 2010-03-11 Unsettling Sights The Fourth World on Film examines the politics of representing Aboriginality in the process bringing frequently marginalized voices and visions issues and debates into the limelight Corinn Columpar uses film theory postcolonial theory and Indigenous theory to frame her discussion of the cinematic construction and transnational circulation of Aboriginality The result is a broad interdisciplinary analysis of how Indigeneity is represented in cinema supported by more than twenty rigorous and theoretically informed case studies of contemporary feature films by both First and Fourth World filmmakers in the United States Canada New Zealand and Australia Columpar relies heavily on textual analysis of the films but also explores contextual issues in filmmaking such as funding personnel modes of production and means of distribution Part one of Unsettling Sights focuses on contact narratives in which the Aboriginal subject is constructed in reactive response to a colonizing or invading presence Films such as The Piano and The Proposition wherein a white man goes native and The New World and Map of the Human Heart which approach contact from the perspective of an Aboriginal character serve as occasions to examine the ways in which Aboriginal identities are negotiated within dominant cinema Part two shifts the focus from contact narratives to films that seek to define Aboriginality on its own terms with reference to a lost homeland and or Indigenous practices of history telling while texts such as Once Were Warriors and Smoke Signals foster an engagement with issues of deterritorialization relocation and urbanization discussion of beDevil Atanarjuat and The Business of Fancydancing among others bring questions of voice translation and the relationship between cinema and oral tradition to the forefront Unsettling Sights is the first significant scholarly examination of Aboriginality and cinema in an international context and will be invaluable to scholars and students in many fields including cinema studies anthropology critical race studies cultural studies and postcolonial studies
