Working At The Calling:

Re-organising Service Work: Call Centres in Germany and Britain Karen A. Shire, Ursula Holtgrewe, Christian Kerst, 2017-09-29 This title was first published in 2002 Call centres are a type of service work that stand at the interface between corporations and consumers They exemplify more general tendencies present within service work They also have a particular public image being associated in the public mind with low skilled and regimented work This volume presents contributions from British and German management academics and industrial sociologists based on primary research on call centres in both countries The contributions cover the genesis and development of call centres as a new form of organization or indeed a new industry the rationalization and control strategies of organizations that establish call centres and the nature of service work and service interactions The findings of this volume challenge the common public image of call centres and finds that call centre employment is in fact very diverse So for example skilled advising and consulting services are often performed over the phone Along with the sometimes skilled nature of call centre work work organization and working conditions vary as well The text also seeks to contrast the British and German experience of call centre work and employment In Germany clerical work has traditionally been embedded in the specific traditions of co operative industrial relations that define the German model Call centres present a strategic challenge to this model and the expansion of call centres has been at the forefront of changes aimed at making employment more flexible in Germany This work offers a choice of country cases which permit a comparison of service employment within both a liberal capitalist and a socially embedded economy

Call Centre Work Christian Dormann, Fred Zijlstra, 2004 This Special Issue is concerned with the working conditions at call centres which harbour jobs of different levels of qualification accumulation and legitimation functions of the state Exploring the regulation of zero hours work beyond individual countries the book includes an analysis of external regulation of zero hours work at the supranational level namely the European Union and ILO Further it assesses the implications of zero hours for workers in new sectors of economic activity particularly the impact of the platform or gig economy on the fundamental nature of the employment relationship It also considers the societal implications of zero hours work and the ethical responsibilities of employers and governments towards workers as citizens

Answering Your Call John P. Schuster, 2010-06 Describes what it means to be called to live a life that fully uses our talents and adds the most lasting value to the world Explains how to hear your call muster the courage to respond to it and stay on track to make your vision a reality even when faced with saboteurs who try to squelch your dreams of living a called life Includes principles and guidelines for creating a life of significance illustrated with concrete and practical real world examples So many people today feel called to find more in their lives beyond the usual definitions of success to live lives of purpose and meaning Answering Your Call is aimed at people who know they are on the planet for a reason and want more than encouragement they want to get precise about it John Schuster helps readers address questions like Am I really hearing the call or is it something else like wishful thinking How do I deal with times of doubt Why does it seem like it takes so long to discover my call Is it possible to have more than one calling in a lifetime or even operating at the same time How do I best handle saboteurs who seem to want to squelch my desire to live a called life What do I do if I am my own saboteur Answering Your Call provides exercises that appeal to our practical side as well as inspirational examples from history and literature It is a spiritual how to book not on how to pray or meditate but how to discern what it is that the world needs you to do
