Writing with a Word Processor William Knowlton Zinsser,1983 Writing in the Computer Age Andrew Fluegelman,Jeremy Joan Hewes,1983-01-01 Explains how a word processor can be the ultimate tool in creating and refining your writing Writing with a Word Processor William Zinsser,2012-10-23 In this helpful and entertaining book the author of the classic On Writing Well explains that he has always had a love of paper and a fear of mechanical objects He describes how he confronted his hang ups got a word processor taught himself to use it and gradually overcame his sense of inferiority to the machine He explains how the word processor by enabling him to revise his work instantly on a screen has changed his lifelong methods of writing rewriting and editing But William Zinsser s book isn t only for writers It s for all the people who have to do any kind of writing memos letters reports directives as part of their working day It explains how the word processor will save time and money in an office or a corporation and predicts that it will soon be our primary writing tool On one level Writing with a Word Processor is a manual for beginners that describes clearly and simply how to use the new technology But it is also one writer s story William Zinsser takes the reader along on a highly personal journey writing with warmth and humor about his anxieties and fears his setbacks and triumphs His book is both an informal guide and an encouraging companion Writing in the Computer Age Andrew Fluegelman,Jeremy Joan Hewes,1983 Explains how a word processor can be the ultimate tool in creating and refining your writing Writing with the Word Processor Kenneth Thomson,1990 Teaching Writing with a Word Processor Dawn Rodrigues,1986 Interactive Writing Helen J. Schwartz,1985 Write in Style Bobbie Christmas,2004-06-15 Write with Stylediffers from all other books on style because it promotes sound writing principles and incorporates contemporary technology It makes style objective so writers spot opportunities for improvement in their work For the first time a book shows writers from beginner to pro how to use almost any word processing program to improve their writing It shows writers how to drive home a point and avoid pedestrian prose Practical Ideas for Teaching Writing as a Process Carol B. Olson,1996-02 Contains a collection of specific classroom strategies suggestions for teaching writing to elementary school students according to an eight stage process Specific techniques for teaching each stage of the writing process descriptions of proven approaches for using these techniques are also included A wonderful resource a labor of love from a large talented group of educators Had its beginnings in the California Writing Project at the Univ of California Irvine Best Seller Illustrated Writing with a Computer Mike Palmquist,Donald E. Zimmerman,1999 Writing with a Computer emphasizes how computers can help users to writers write more efficiently and effectively Recognizing that the majority of writers only take advantage of about 10% of the functionality of most modern word processors the text helps writers explore how other functions of word processors can help them write better and faster Writing with a Computer also provides detailed discussions of locating evaluating and organizing information available on the Internet with an emphasis on the World Wide Web Its primary goal is to explore how technology can support the range of composing and information gathering processes that writers use to create new documents The book focuses on how computers help writers generate ideas collect and evaluate information draft review revise and edit text and design documents advice on how to keep a computer in good working order as well as how to solve problems is also included Providing clear guidance on the strengths and weaknesses of modern word processors and operating systems Writing with a Computer emphasizes how computers can help serve the needs of writers rather than placing that emphasis on software features   Writing with a Computer David James Towler,1987   Guide to Process Writing in Grades 3-6 Using a Word Processor Cathy L. Gunn,1988   Writing and Digital Media Luuk van Waes,Mariëlle Leijten,Christophe Neuwirth,2006-04-04 Digital media has become an increasingly powerful force in modern society This volume brings together outstanding European American and Australian research in writing and digital media and explores its cognitive social and cultural implications The book is divided into five sections covering major areas of research writing modes and writing environments e g speech technology writing and communication e g hypervideos digital tools for writing research e g web analysis tools keystroke logging and eye tracking writing in online educational environments e g collaborative writing in L2 and social and philosophical aspects of writing and digital media e g CMC electronic literacy and the global digital divide In addition to presenting programs of original research by internationally known scholars from a variety of disciplines each chapter provides a comprehensive review of the current state of the art in the field and suggests directions for future research   Writing with a Word Processor Eric D. Brown,1984 Shows how to take advantage of the features found on most word processors to improve one s writing and offers examples of business letters reports and memos   Computers and Writing Patrik O'Brian Holt,Noel Williams,2012-12-06 Patrik O Brian Holt Heriot Watt University After speech writing is the most common form of human communication and represents the cornerstone of our ability to preserve and record information Writing by its very definition requires artifacts in the form of tools to write with and a medium to write on Through history these artifacts have ranged from sticks and clay tablets feather and leather crude pens and paper sophisticated pens and paper typewriters and paper and electronic devices with or without paper The development of writing tools has straightforward objectives to make writing easier and more effective and assist in distributing written communication fast and efficiently Both the crudest and most sophisticated forms of writing tools act as mediators of human written communication for the purpose of producing distributing and conserving written language In the modern world the computer is arguably the most sophisticated form of mediation the implications of which are not yet fully understood The use of computers a writing artifact which mediates communication for the production and editing of text is almost as old as computers themselves Early computers involved the use of crude text editors and a writer had to insert commands resembling a programming language to format and print a document For example to underline a word the writer had to do the following This is an example of how to ul underline a single word in order to produce This is an example of how to underline a single word   Learning to Write Differently Marilyn Cochran-Smith,Cynthia L. Paris,Jessica L. Kahn,1991 This volume explores in detail the ways that working with word processing interacts with the social processes of classrooms to shape participants theories and practices of writing It offers an expanded image of the ways teachers construct writing curricula that includes word processing and reveals an interactive long term relationship between the writing contexts teachers and children construct and the capacities and requirements of writing tools The volume also builds an analytic framework for thinking and talking about teachers students and technology which captures the dynamic interrelationships over time of classroom cultures teachers interpretations and decisions and uses of word processing The authors argue that over time both teachers and children learned ways to write differently with word processing That is working with word processing shaped the ways teachers thought about teaching and learning writing and also shaped the ways beginning writers understood and practiced the activity This volume makes clear that word processing itself does not make children write better prompt them to revise more or teach them new writing strategies But when teachers and students work together with word processing they often construct social contexts within which children have opportunities to learn new writing strategies new ways to think about strategies they already have and ways to execute those strategies efficiently   Writing with a Purpose James McNab McCrimmon,Joseph F.
