Making Faith-sense Robert L. Kinast, 1999 Making faith sense is a new term for an ancient practice It is what the early Christians called mystical or wisdom theology understanding life in the light of God s participation recorded in the Gospels recognizing the signs of God s presence in everyday events and shaping one s life accordingly In Making Faith Sense Robert Kinast shows all who seek to unify their life experience around their belief in God how to follow that ancient practice Drawing upon the award winning process he has used with students for the ministry Father Kinast explains how to make sense of family work and cultural experience from the perspective of Christian faith Each chapter contains numerous real life examples and practical guidelines that can be used privately or with a group Making Faith Sense begins with a discussion of wisdom theology and its revival in modern times highlighting the turn to experience that characterizes feminist liberation and inculturated theologies The methods for making faith sense embrace three main components experience reflection and action The first section describes what is meant by experience the value of narrating it how to analyze it and what to pay attention to so that experience will reveal its theological meaning The second section explains the role of reflection its similarity to prayer techniques for connecting experience to theological tradition and the most useful theological resources for making faith sense The third section affirms the importance of putting reflection into practice of ensuring that action flows from reflection of planning and evaluating the effect of one s practice and of using practice as the starting point for continuing the process of making faith sense Examples from work family and cultural life are used throughout to provide illustrations of these general points A concluding chapter summarizes the reemergence of practical theology since the 1980s as an effort of church communities to make faith sense of their collective lives Chapters are What Is Faith Sense How to Make Faith Sense Getting Started How to Make Faith Sense The Heart of the Matter and Enacting Faith Sense The Culmination of the Process Robert L Kinast PhD is a pastoral theologian specializing in the field of theological reflection Through the publications and services of the Center for Theological Reflection Indian Rocks Beach Florida he contributes to

Reflective Writing. Approaching Methods of Theological Reflection and Meaning of Life Victor Frimpong, 2020-07-03

Essay from the year 2020 in the subject Philosophy Practical Ethics Aesthetics Culture Nature Right grade B UGSM Monarch Business School Switzerland language English abstract This essay illustrates a trajectory of a reflective model using real life individual experience and leading to action Reflective writings are well covered in academic and applied works of literature even though reflection is a social construct subjected to varying interpretations and no clear consensus on what and how it should look like The core meaning of reflection is occasionally contested even belittled as mere individual self dialogue Popular commentary has wondered whether a mere recollection of event on a reflective format leads to any meanings at all What we do know is that reflection offers an opportunity to consider how one's personal experiences and observations through critical thinking and acceptance of new ideas

Sexuality and the Sacred James B. Nelson, Sandra P.

Longfellow, 1994-01-01 This volume is rooted in two convictions first sexuality is far more comprehensive and more fundamental to our existence than simply genital sex and second sexuality is intended by God to be neither incidental nor detrimental to our spirituality but a fully integrated and basic dimension of that spirituality The authors address what our sexual experience reveals about God the ways we understand the gospel and the ways we read scripture and tradition and attempt to live faithfully

Theological Reflection and Education for Ministry John E. Paver, 2016-02-17

A major and continuing problem for theological education and the practice of Christian ministry is how to best achieve a genuine integration between theory and practice theology and experience The key claim of this book is that theological reflection beginning with experience is a method of integration and that pastoral supervision is a vehicle for theological reflection In establishing this claim John Paver demonstrates that the model and method have potential to be a catalyst for reform within theological colleges and seminaries Three different theological reflection models are developed and critiqued in this book and their capacity to be developed in particular contexts is explored This book does not stop at ministry cultural and personal integration but is bold enough to make recommendations for structural integration within the theological institution

Supervision of Ministry Students Regina Coll, 1992 Through a practical discussion of the aims of field education this work guides supervisors through their role in this crucial step in the education of ministerial students It clearly defines the role of supervisors their consequent responsibilities and ways in which to meet those responsibilities
