Young Parents:

Improving Services to Young Parents Through CETA. Stephen Boochever, 1980 Changing Landscapes for Childhood and Youth in Europe Vassiliki Deliyianni, 2014-06-02 Contemporary social transformations characterised by multi dimensional globalisation and technological change have lent new impetus to the emergence of internationally oriented and interdisciplinary childhood and youth studies Analysis of sharpened polarisations of chances and risks within and between generations in specific life circumstances meets up with the re conceptualisation of childhood and youth as social constructions within the life course As such insulated national discourses are no longer an adequate framework to address such issues economic and cultural globalisation processes exert dual and reciprocal influences restructuring societies and identities from within and without This collection offers a three fold thematic focus on the social construction of the life course privileging gendered and family transitions and transformations on the contours of not belonging in particular bringing migration and poverty into the spotlight and on the potential of virtual worlds for creating and enabling new positive and negative forms of individual social and political action on the part of young people This collection thus offers a particular snapshot of the current landscape of childhood and youth studies and it provides a set of exemplars from diverse national contexts Each chapter can stand for itself but the contributions are ordered thematically not according to the corner of the world from which they derive As the introductory chapter explores the intention is via a loose vectoring of theme and context to encourage multiple opportunities for reflection on relations between the specificities and commonalities of children s and young people s lives today This volume joins the growing library of scholarly resources for international and interdisciplinary childhood and youth studies it brings together well established and young scholars writing from an unusual range of national and cultural contexts The collection will be of interest not simply for specialist researchers and those in related fields but equally as a teaching and learning resource for higher education professionals and students in social sciences and education including courses that link theory and research with policy and practice The Young Woman's Journal ,1904 Short Talks with Young Mothers on the Management of Infants and Young Children Charles Gilmore Kerley, 1922 The Spectator ,1925 The Religious System of China, Its Ancient Forms, Evolution, History and Present Aspect, Manners, Customs and Social Institutions Connected Therewith Jam Jakob María de Groot, Jan Jakob Maria Groot, 1910 *California.
