What is Global Engineering Education For? The Making of International Educators, Part I & II Gary Downey,Kacey Beddoes,2022-05-31 Global engineering offers the seductive image of engineers figuring out how to optimize work through collaboration and mobility Its biggest challenge to engineers however is more fundamental and difficult to better understand what they know and value qua engineers and why This volume reports an experimental effort to help sixteen engineering educators produce personal geographies describing what led them to make risky career commitments to international and global engineering education The contents of their diverse trajectories stand out in extending far beyond the narrower image of producing globally competent engineers Their personal geographies repeatedly highlight experiences of incongruence beyond home countries that provoked them to see themselves and understand their knowledge differently The experiences were sufficiently profound to motivate them to design educational experiences that could challenge engineering students in similar ways For nine engineers gaining new international knowledge challenged assumptions that engineering work and life are limited to purely technical practices compelling explicit attention to broader value commitments For five non engineers and two hybrids gaining new international knowledge fueled ambitions to help engineering students better recognize and critically examine the broader value commitments in their work A background chapter examines the historical emergence of international engineering education in the United States and an epilogue explores what it might take to integrate practices of critical self analysis more systematically in the education and training of engineers Two appendices and two online supplements describe the unique research process that generated these personal geographies especially the workshop at the U S National Academy of Engineering in which authors were prohibited from participating in discussions of their manuscripts Table of Contents The Border Crossers Personal Geographies of International and Global Engineering Educators Gary Lee Downey From Diplomacy and Development to Competitiveness and Globalization Historical Perspectives on the Internationalization of Engineering Education Brent Jesiek and Kacey Beddoes Crossing Borders My Journey at WPI Rick Vaz Education of Global Engineers and Global Citizens E Dan Hirleman In Search international education programs are projected to grow exponentially as students parents and university personnel seek to prepare future leaders who can live and work effectively in a global environment What do we know about the outcomes of such programs and how can educators become more intentional about designing and assessing the impact of such courses How can we help students achieve the intercultural growth and transformation that they may envision as they set forth on their international sojourn International education provides opportunities for students to grow personally and to learn in a rich and intense educational environment The outcomes of such opportunities emphasize not only traditional academic competence but also changes in motivations attitudes self identity and values It is these latter co academic concepts that are the focus of this book Its goal is to give solid substance to the growth and transformation approach to study abroad It defines the central concept of intercultural competence sets it within the framework of transformative learning theory and offers ideas and strategies for facilitating its development In doing so it goes far beyond traditional emphases on the achievement of such formal skills as foreign language acquisition or specific knowledge of course content in national literatures arts or history This book provides study abroad educators with a theoretical framework and examples of practice to craft more meaningful activities that will make a long term difference in the quality of student experiences and set the stage for transformative change If we plan to send a million students a year to study abroad within the decade we need approaches to maximize student growth outcomes in an efficient and effective way It is also relevant for anyone engaged in courses in adult education college student services comparative and international education international business intercultural relations and service learning that involve study abroad and that raise corresponding issues of curriculum design Postgraduate and
