Studies In Documentary:

Ten Years of Studies in Documentary Film Deane Williams, 2018-08-29 This volume will be a time capsule of the first 10 years of Studies in Documentary Film 2007-2016 tracing not only the development of the journal but also of documentary studies in the same period. Issues such as the rise of digital documentary forms and authorship, documentary activism, and the Chinese Independent documentary, as well as diverse political issues, will be raised in the introduction and evidenced in the articles. The chapters have been chosen for the various themes they raise in documentary studies but also the broader field of documentary scholarship including publishing and the rise of the internet as a powerful force in documentary studies.

Studies in Documentary Alan Lovell, Jim Hillier, 1972 A Companion to Documentary Film History Joshua Malitsky, 2021-04-13 This volume offers a new and expanded history of the documentary form across a range of times and contexts featuring original essays by leading historians in the field. In a contemporary media culture suffused with competing truth claims, documentary media have become one of the most significant means through which we think in depth about the past. The most rigorous collection of essays on nonfiction film and media history and historiography currently available. A Companion to Documentary Film History offers an in-depth global examination of central historical issues and approaches in documentary and of documentary's engagement with historical and contemporary topics, debates, and themes. The Companion's twenty original essays by prominent nonfiction film and media historians challenge prevalent conceptions of what documentary is and was and explore its growth, development, and function over time. The authors provide fresh insights on the mode's reception, geographies, authorship, multimedia contexts, and movements and address documentary's many aesthetic, industrial, historiographical, and social dimensions. This authoritative volume offers both historical specificity and conceptual flexibility in approaching nonfiction and documentary media. Explores documentary's multiple, complex geographic and geopolitical frameworks. Covers a diversity of national and historical contexts including Revolution era, Soviet Union, post-World War Two, Canada, and Europe, and contemporary China. Establishes new connections and interpretive contexts for key individual films and film movements using new primary sources. Interrogates established assumptions about documentary authorship, audiences, and documentary's historical connection to other media practices. A Companion to Documentary Film History is an ideal text for undergraduate and graduate courses covering documentary or nonfiction film and media, an excellent supplement for courses on national or regional media histories, and an important new resource for all film and media studies scholars, particularly those in nonfiction media.

100 Documentary Films Barry Keith Grant, Jim Hillier, 2019-07-25 Documentary films constitute a major part of film history Cinema's origins lie arguably more in non fiction than fiction and documentary represents the other often submerged and barely visible half of cinema history Historically documentary cinema has always been an important point of reference for fiction cinema and the two have often overlapped Over the last two decades documentary cinema has enjoyed a revival in critical and commercial success 100 Documentary Films is the first book to offer concise and authoritative individual critical commentaries on some of the key documentary films from the Lumiere brothers and the beginnings of cinema through to recent films such as Bowling for Columbine and When the Levees Broke and is global in perspective Many different types of documentary are discussed as well as films by major documentary directors including Robert Flaherty Humphrey Jennings Jean Rouch Dziga Vertov Errol Morris Nick Broomfield and Michael Moore Each entry provides concise critical analysis while frequent cross reference to other films featured helps to place films in their historical and aesthetic contexts Barry Keith Grant is Professor of Film Studies and Popular Culture at Brock University Ontario Canada He is the author of Film Genre From Iconography to Ideology 2007 Voyages of Discovery The Cinema of Frederick Wiseman 1992 and co author with Steve Blandford and Jim Hillier of The Film Studies Dictionary 2001 Jim Hillier is Visiting Lecturer in Film at the University of Reading He is the author of The New Hollywood 1993 the co author of The Film Studies Dictionary 2001 and with Alan Lovell of Studies in Documentary 1972 His edited books include American Independent Cinema 2001 and two volumes of the English translation of the selected Cahiers du cinema 1985 1986

Documentary Case Studies Jeff Swimmer, 2014-12-18 Documentary students and fans revel in stories about filmmakers conquering extraordinary challenges trying to bring their work to the screen This book brings vividly to life the sometimes humorous sometimes excruciating and always inspiring stories behind the making of some of the greatest documentaries of our time All of the filmmakers and films profiled are Oscar nominated or Oscar winning Documentary Case Studies walks readers through the fixes and missteps that today's documentary leaders worked through at all stages to create their masterworks from development fundraising and pre production through production and then post There are plenty of how to documentary filmmaking books in circulation but this book will instead deploy a personal intimate and candid approach to unlocking the secrets of the craft and the business by meeting filmmakers who tackle production challenges in the most resourceful and unconventional ways

Documentary's Awkward Turn Jason Middleton, 2013-12-04 Despite the prominence of awkwardness as cultural buzzword and descriptor of a sub genre of contemporary film and television comedy it has yet to be adequately theorized in academic film and media studies Documentary's Awkward Turn contributes a new critical paradigm to the field by presenting an analysis of awkward moments in documentary film and other reality based media formats It examines difficult and disrupted encounters between social actors on the screen between filmmaker and subject and between film and spectator These encounters are of course often inter connected Awkward moments occur when an established mode of representation or reception is unexpectedly challenged stalled or altered when an interviewee suddenly confronts the interviewer when a subject who had been comfortable on camera begins to feel trapped in the frame when a film perceived as a documentary turns out to be a parodic mockumentary This book makes visible the ways in which awkwardness connects and subtends a range of transformative textual strategies political and ethical problematics and modalities of spectatorship in documentary film and media from the 1970s to the present The Television Genre Book Glen Creeber,2015-08-16 Genre is central to understanding the industrial context and visual form of television This new edition of the key textbook on television genre brings together leading international scholars to provide an accessible and comprehensive introduction to the debates issues and concerns of the field Structured in eleven sections The Television Genre Book introduces the concept of genre itself and how it has been understood in television studies and then addresses the main televisual genres in turn drama soap opera comedy news documentary reality television children's television animation and popular entertainment This third edition is illustrated throughout with case studies of classic and contemporary programming from each genre ranging from The Simpsons to Buffy the Vampire Slayer and from Monty Python's Flying Circus to Who Wants to be a Millionaire It also features new case studies on contemporary shows including The Only Way Is Essex Homeland Game of Thrones Downton Abbey Planet Earth Grey's Anatomy and QVC and new chapters covering topics such as constructed reality travelogues telefantasy stand up comedy the panel show 24 hour news Netflix and video on demand Documentary Research in Education, History, and the Social Sciences Gary McCulloch,2004 This up to date examination of how to research and utilise documents analyses texts from the past and present considering sources ranging from personal archives to online documents and including books reports official documents and printed media Introduction to Social Research Keith F Punch,2013-11-19 In the new edition of Introduction to Social Research Keith Punch takes a fresh look at the entire research process from formulating a research question to writing up your research Covering qualitative quantitative and mixed methods the book focuses on matching research questions to appropriate methods Offering concise balanced coverage this book clearly explains the underlying principles of social research and shows you how to put this understanding into practice The third edition includes A new chapter on literature searching and reviewing Expanded coverage of ethics A new section on using the internet in research A range of additional student learning features A brand new companion website including full text journal articles additional case studies and video tutorials Using a range of examples from student research and published work the book is an ideal introduction for any social science student taking a research methods course or embarking on their own undergraduate or postgraduate research project

Cognitive Theory and Documentary Film Catalin Brylla, Mette Kramer, 2018-08-21 This groundbreaking edited collection is the first major study to explore the intersection between cognitive theory and documentary film studies focusing on a variety of formats such as first person wildlife animated and slow TV documentary as well as docudrama and web videos Documentaries play an increasingly significant role in informing our cognitive and emotional understanding of today's mass mediated society and this collection seeks to illuminate their production exhibition and reception Taking an interdisciplinary approach the essays draw on the latest research in film studies the neurosciences cultural studies cognitive psychology social psychology and the philosophy of mind With a foreword by documentary studies pioneer Bill Nichols and contributions from both theorists and practitioners this volume firmly demonstrates that cognitive theory represents a valuable tool not only for film scholars but also for filmmakers and practice led researchers
