

Speech on the Importance of Science

A very good morning to one and all present here. Today, I'll be giving a short speech on the topic of the importance of science.

Google defines the term 'science' to be "the systematic study of the structure and behaviour of the physical and natural world through observation, experimentation, and the testing of theories against the evidence obtained."

Simply put, "science is the pursuit and application of knowledge and understanding of the natural and social world following a systematic methodology based on evidence." Thus evidential proof as a result of experimentations. This is precisely why science has become very important, especially in today's times.

Science, especially scientific findings, is a game changer in numerous fields such as medicine, technology, and even war. Without science, a lot of diseases would still be life-threatening and many of the technological advancements we have today would be nonexistent. This, I'm sure, would put us back to the vulnerable human beings we had once been.

Science is our future.

Thank You.

Speech Science and Technology ,1993 Speech Rhythm in Varieties of English Robert Fuchs,2015-09-25 This book addresses the question whether Educated Indian English is more syllable timed than British English from two standpoints production and perception Many post colonial varieties of English which are mostly spoken as a second language in countries such as India Nigeria and the Philippines are thought to have a syllable timed rhythm whereas first language varieties such as British English are characterized as being stress timed While previous studies mostly relied on a single acoustic correlate of speech rhythm usually duration the author proposes a multidimensional approach to the production of speech rhythm that takes into account various acoustic correlates The results reveal that the two varieties differ with regard to a number of dimensions such as duration sonority intensity loudness pitch and glottal stop insertion The second part of the study addresses the question whether the difference in speech rhythm between Indian and British English is perceptually relevant based on intelligibility and dialect discrimination experiments The results reveal that speakers generally find the rhythm of their own variety more intelligible and that listeners can identify which variety a speaker is using on the basis of differences in speech rhythm Tutorial Day ,1988 Internet of Things and Connected Technologies Rajiv Misra,Nishtha

Modeling Creativity and Knowledge-Based Creative Design John S. Gero, Mary Lou Maher, 2013-05-13 Over the last decade research into design processes utilizing ideas and models drawn from artificial intelligence has resulted in a better understanding of design particularly routine design as a process Indeed most of the current research activity directly or indirectly deals only with routine design Not surprisingly many practicing designers state that the level of understanding represented by these models is only of mild interest because they fail to embody any ideas about creativity This volume provides a set of chapters in the areas of modeling creativity and knowledge based creative design that examines the potential role and form of computer aided design which supports creativity It aims to define the state of the art of computational creativity in design as well as to identify research directions Published at a time when the field of computational creativity in design is still immature it should influence the directions of growth and assist the field in reaching maturity
