This book offers a comparative analysis of the Canadian and American health care systems and it also explicates and criticizes both Norman Daniels' fair equality of opportunity argument for a right to health care and Allan Buchanan's enforced beneficence argument for a right to a decent minimum of health care. Cust advances an argument based on David Gauthier's Morals by Agreement that people have a right to a just minimum of health care. The significance of Cust's book is that the main argument is based on four important notions central to contemporary social moral and political theory, namely the notions of liberty, equality, consent, and mutual advantage.

Visualizing Love and Longing in Song Dynasty Paintings of Women Lara Caroline Williams Blanchard, 2001

The nature of emotion, particularly how it is manifested, has been a concern of Chinese theorists since the early imperial period. One way that this concern came to be expressed in certain genres of Chinese art and literature was in the conception of elite women as preoccupied with romance. In the Song dynasty (960-1279), painters and poets engaged in an extensive dialogue on the meanings of attachments between men and women, with the stages of the love relationship coded as desire, love, longing, and heartbreak. An examination of extant paintings from this period reveals that this construction pervades the cultural productions of both court figures and intellectuals. This dissertation analyzes Song dynasty paintings of women in love in light of the construction of both femininity and masculinity, the nature of representation and text-image relationships, and considers the authorship and reception of these works.
