State and Class in Africa Nelson Kasfir, The Precarious Balance Donald S. Rothchild,2019-05-07 Since independence the political institutions of many African states have undergone a process of consolidation and subsequent deterioration Constrained by external economic dependency and an acute scarcity of economic and technical resources state officials have demonstrated a diminished capacity to regulate their societies Public policies are agreed upon but ineffectively implemented by the weak institutions of the state Although scholars have analyzed the various facets of state building in detail little systematic attention has been given to the issue of the decline of the state and mechanisms to cope with state ineffectiveness in Africa This book focuses especially on the character of the postcolonial state in Africa the nature of and reasons for state deterioration and the mechanisms and policies for coping with state malfunction Scholars from Africa the United States Europe and the Middle East combine a broad understanding of African political processes with expertise on specific regions Their analytic and comparative perspective provides a comprehensive and timely treatment of this vital and heretofore neglected theme in African politics

State, Class and Underdevelopment in Nigeria and Early Meiji Japan Sakah Saidu Mahmud,2016-07-27 This book compares the social processes that explain Japanese development beginning with the Meiji Restoration in 1868 with similar processes in post independent Nigeria in its effort to achieve capitalist development Before the Restoration and independence both Japan and Nigeria lacked any prospects for further development Japan however pursued fundamental social transformations of society leading to capitalist development whereas Nigeria following independence has lacked any transforming ideals resulting in underdevelopment and social stagnation

The State in Africa Tatah Mentan,2025-09-28 This book critically analyzes the complex relationship between the African state and capitalist globalization It describes in great detail the significant effects of the various historical trajectories of global capitalist expansion on the nature and functions of the African state while focusing on the present triumph of globalized neo liberalism on the African continent The history of the state in Africa has been misread and misinterpreted through the Eurocentric convictions of European African scholars alike The State in Africa has since its colonial inception has served as the best possible political shell for capitalism enabling it to penetrate again possession and establish itself firmly and securely regardless of institutional and leadership instability at the helm The glaring artificiality of the state in Africa coupled with the failure of the local ruling classes to rise above the limitations of their provenance is to blame for the myriad crises of one party authoritarianism violent coups and military dictatorship It is also to blame for the progressive alienation of the African people and the prevailing crises of identity and citizenship Independence does not seem to have changed much as the state is still controlled by the most powerful foreign economically dominant class which has appropriated political power as well to further compound the subjection and exploitation of the oppressed Africans Today the continent continues to grapple with underdevelopment civil wars intra state conflicts political instability state failure and outright collapse thus calling into question the viability and survivability of the Westphalian state model in Africa
