State Transformations: Classes, Strategy, Socialism, 2021-07-05 It is often remarked that critical and especially Marxist state theory began to lose its central place in the study of comparative politics in the 1980s Ironically this shift occurred just as neoliberal policies were transforming the social form and spatial scales of the state radically restructuring the practices of state economic intervention and extending the capabilities of the coercive arms of the state This volume addresses the impoverishment of state theory over the last decades and insists on the continued salience of class analysis to the study of states The book's title State Transformations reflects several central themes in the comparative study of states the neoliberal restructuring of capitalist states the changing economic and political architecture of imperialism and the prospects of a democratic transformation of capitalist states The essays collected here on these themes are in honor and memory of Leo Panitch whose influential body of work has shaped debates on the state imperialism and socialism over the past four decades Contributors are Clyde W Barrow Caio Bugiato Frank Deppe Ruth Felder Ana Garcia Sam Gindin Doug Henwood Martijn Konings Colin Leys Sebnem Oguz Bryan D Palmer Dennis Pilon Larry Savage Charles Smith Michalis Spourdalakis and Hilary

Lyles, 2024-03-03 For 10 000 years before any European immigrants arrived on the North American Continent Native American Indians engaged in a communal lifestyle From 1600 to 1791 American Colonists established a thriving home production economy and having ownership of their tools or means of production they produced everything they needed to survive They were self reliant and the American Colonists sold their excess goods to merchants who resold them for a profit By 1791 the merchants were able to start the first textile factories as a result which brought an abrupt end to the home production economy and the beginning of American Capitalism Former independent colonists were now forced into the textile factory and the first wage contract appeared in America The wage contract also set in motion a contradiction between the capitalist owners of the means of production and the new American Working Class The wage contract allowed the owners of working class labor and the instruments of production to evolve into an American Ruling Class and the producers of all commodities and wealth became the American Working Class People wage workers class Because of their divergent interests the two classes formed a class contradiction and the latter became known as the capitalist American Ruling Class Opposite and the American Working Class Opposite People wage workers This development occurred mainly in the northern factory economy while in the South uncompensated African Slave Labor was dominant which was owned by an American Slaveholding Class By 1860 the contradiction between the capitalist American Ruling Class Opposite owner of the wage labor system came into a head on contradiction with uncompensated African Slave Labor and a bloody Civil War was fought to determine which type of means of production would prevail and dominate during the 20th Century The South was defeated and the wage contract system became nationalized Therefore throughout the twentieth Century including the beginning of the new Millennium the capitalist American Ruling Class Opposite expropriated the labor s product of the American Working Class Opposite People wage workers which resulted in this class accumulation of multiple billions of dollars of Surplus Value and simultaneously this loss translated into the American Working Class Opposite People wage workers increasing alienation estrangement loss self identity self expression and freedom
