Philosophy of Science Wang Wei, 2020-12-29 The book is a translation of the second edition of a much used and research based Chinese textbook As a succinct and issue based introduction to the Western philosophy of science the book brings eight focal issues in the field to the fore and augments each topic by incorporating Chinese perspectives Followed by an overview of the historical framework and logical underpinnings of the philosophy of science the book thoroughly discusses eight issues in the discipline 1 the criteria of cognitive meaning 2 induction and confirmation 3 scientific explanation 4 theories of scientific growth 5 the demarcation between science and pseudoscience 6 scientific realism and empiricism 7 the philosophy of scientific experimentation 8 science and value Not confined to Western mainstream discourse in this field the book also introduces voices of Chinese philosophers of note and adopts a stance that productively combines logical empiricism and Kuhnianism both of which tend to be covered in less detail by many English language textbooks In the final chapter the author offers a prognosis regarding the future of the discipline based on recent trends This book will be of value to students who study philosophy of science and hope to gain a better understanding of science and technology

Nonideal Theory and Content Externalism Jeff Engelhardt, 2024 This book charges that just about every philosophical theory of mind or language developed over the past

50 years in the West is systematically inaccurate Systemic oppression has influenced the processes that theories of mind or language purport to identify however that same systemic oppression has also made it so that most middle to upper class White men including most philosophers of mind or language are ignorant of systemic oppression Consequently most theories of mind or language are systematically inaccurate because they fail to account for the influences of systemic oppression Philosopher Jeff Engelhardt argues for the de idealization of two influential theories in the philosophy of mind and language social externalism and objective type externalism and considers some consequences of the de idealization project Following the work of Charles Mills Engelhardt argues that ideal theories adopt oppression obscuring assumptions while nonideal theories avoid them or at least try to Ideal theories assume that language users are basically equal and that social institutions and structures are basically just but scholarship on Western social relations institutions and structures shows that in fact each of these is systematically influenced by oppression Consequently ideal theories tend to be systematically inaccurate Moreover since oppression systematically produces ignorance of systemic oppression such systematically inaccurate theories are likely the norm rather than the exception Engelhardt shows that once we ve shown that oppression systematically influences the processes that determine linguistic meanings according to content externalism then we have reason to expand our notion of hermeneutical injustice we have evidence that hermeneutical injustice occurs systematically and we have grounds for expanding discussions of conceptual engineering to include questions about engineering the processes that determine concepts not just concepts themselves human and they should not be treated as psychiatric disease However today millions of people who are really no more than worried well are being diagnosed as having a mental disorder and are receiving unnecessary treatment In Saving Normal Allen Frances one of the world s most influential psychiatrists warns that mislabeling everyday problems as mental illness has shocking implications for individuals and society stigmatizing a healthy person as mentally ill leads to unnecessary harmful medications the narrowing of horizons misallocation of medical resources and draining of the budgets of families and the nation We also shift responsibility for our mental well being away from our own naturally resilient and self healing brains which have kept us sane for hundreds of thousands of years and into the hands of Big Pharma who are reaping multi billion dollar profits Frances cautions that the new edition of the bible of psychiatry the Diagnostic and Statistical Manual of Mental Disorders 5 DSM 5 will turn our current diagnostic inflation into hyperinflation by converting millions of normal people into mental patients Alarmingly in DSM 5 normal grief will become Major Depressive Disorder the forgetting seen in old age is Mild Neurocognitive Disorder temper tantrums are Disruptive Mood Dysregulation Disorder worrying about a medical illness is Somatic Symptom Disorder gluttony is Binge Eating Disorder and most of us will qualify for adult Attention Deficit Disorder What s more all of these newly invented conditions will worsen the cruel paradox of the mental health industry those who desperately need psychiatric help are left shamefully neglected while the worried well are given the bulk of the treatment often at their own detriment Masterfully charting the history of psychiatric fads throughout history Frances argues that whenever we arbitrarily label another aspect of the human condition a disease we further chip away at our human adaptability and diversity dulling the full palette of what is normal and losing something fundamental of ourselves in the process Saving Normal is a call to all of us to reclaim the full measure of our humanity Psychology Philip G.
