Critiquing Radio and Television Content Peter B. Orlik,1988 International Television & Video Almanac Quigley Publishing,2005 Tempo ,1961 Listener and BBC Television Review ,1989-09 Saturday Review ,1960 Film & Video Finder ,1989 Televised Morality Gregory Stevenson,2003 The increasing frequency of moralist critiques of television shows is an acknowledgment of television s growing role in the shaping of a culture s moral values Yet many moralist critiques misconstrue the full moral message of a show due to a restrictive focus on sex violence and profanity Televised Morality explores the nature of moral discourse on television by using Buffy the Vampire Slayer as a case study Buffy the Vampire Slayer has simultaneously been heralded as one of the most morally sophisticated shows on television and one of the most morally corrupt The program offers a fascinating look into the divergent issues involved in the moral evaluation of television today Stevenson argues that analysis of this show s moral vision its methods of moral reasoning and its narrative function reveal the complexity of moral discourse on television and provides a good model for the moral critique of other television shows

The Dance Film and Video Guide Dance Films Association,1991 Educational Film/video Locator of the Consortium of University Film Centers and R.R. Bowker Consortium of University Film Centers,1986 The Scandal of Continuity in Middle East Anthropology Judith Scheele,Andrew Shryock,2019-09-12 Despite a rich history of ethnographic research in Middle Eastern societies the region is frequently portrayed as marginal to anthropology The contributors to this volume reject this view and show how the Middle East is in fact vital to the discipline and how Middle Eastern anthropologists have developed theoretical and methodological tools that address and challenge the region s political ethical and intellectual concerns The contributors to this volume are students of Paul Dresch an anthropologist known for his incisive work on Yemeni tribalism and customary law As they expand upon his ideas and insights these essays ask questions that have long preoccupied anthropologists such as how do place point of view and style combine to create viable bodies of knowledge how is scholarship shaped by the historical context in which it is located and why have duration and form become so problematic in the study of Middle Eastern societies Special attention is given to understanding local terms contested knowledge claims what remains unseen and unsaid in social life and to cultural patterns and practices that persist over long stretches of time seeming to predate and outlast events Ranging from Morocco to India these essays offer critical but sensitive approaches to cultural difference and the distinctiveness of the anthropological project in the Middle East
