

A man and a woman in early 20th-century attire are shown on a ship's deck. The man, on the left, is wearing a light-colored suit jacket over a striped vest and a white shirt with a dark tie. He is looking down at a small, round object he is holding in his hands. The woman, on the right, is wearing a large, wide-brimmed straw hat and a light-colored, high-collared dress. She is also looking down at the object. The background shows a clear blue sky and the ocean.

Striner,2016-04-29 This is a definitive study of films that have been built around the themes of love death and the afterlife films about lovers who meet again and love again in heaven via reincarnation or through other kinds of after death encounters Far more than books about mere ghosts in the movies or religion in movies Love in the Afterlife presents a complex but highly distinctive and unique pattern the love death afterlife pattern as it was handed down by the ancient Egyptians and Greeks in the Isis and Orpheus myths for example developed by Freud and his followers in the duality of Eros and Thanatos and then featured in popular movies from the 1920s to the recent past Among its other qualities Love in the Afterlife may encourage readers to look at movies differently and reflect upon the possibility that other patterns in cinema may have gone undetected for years Furthermore this book will show how the love death afterlife theme found its way into all sorts of different film types melodramas comedies war films horror films film noir and other genres The book will be well illustrated and quotations from film reviews will enliven its pages A long appendix gives production data on almost sixty individual films

Philosophy and Film Christina Rawls,Diana Neiva,Steven S. Gouveia,2019-04-25 This volume collects twenty original essays on the philosophy of film It uniquely brings together scholars working across a range of philosophical traditions and academic disciplines to broaden and advance debates on film and philosophy The book includes contributions from a number of prominent philosophers of film including No l Carroll Chris Falzon Deborah Knight Paisley Livingston Robert Sinnerbrink Malcolm Turvey and Thomas Wartenberg While the topics explored by the contributors are diverse there are a number of thematic threads that connect them Overall the book seeks to bridge analytic and continental approaches to philosophy of film in fruitful ways Moving to the individual essays the first two sections offer novel takes on the philosophical value and the nature of film The next section focuses on the film as philosophy debate Section IV covers cinematic experience while Section V includes interpretations of individual films that touch on questions of artificial intelligence race and film and cinema s biopolitical potential Finally the last section proposes new avenues for future research on the moving image beyond film This book will appeal to a broad range of scholars working in film studies theory and philosophy
