

The Railway Train

I like to see it lap the miles,
And lick the valleys up,
And stop to feed itself at tanks;
And then, prodigious, step
Around a pile of mountains,
And, supercilious, peer
In shanties by the sides of roads;
And then a quarry pare
To fit its sides, and crawl between,
Complaining all the while
In horrid, hooting stanza;
Then chase itself down hill
And neigh like Boanerges;
Then, punctual as a star,
Stop – docile and omnipotent –
At its own stable door.

Taking The Train Poems:

Taking the Train Elaine Fowler Palencia,1997 Bees That Buzz with Poetry Elementria Steel,2024-05-02 Bees that buzz with poetry is a book that reaches children and teenagers The book is full of hope and inspiration It is a book that is unforgettable Bees that buzz with poetry book is full of wisdom possibilities and motivation Making Poems Todd F. Davis,Erin Murphy,2010-02-02 This diverse collection of poems and companion essays by forty nationally and internationally known poets allows readers to experience the creative process through the eyes and voice of each poet No matter how often we are told that revision is an essential component of poetic composition it can be difficult to resist the temptation to think of the poem as having sprung spontaneously Athena like from the writer s head By exposing readers to the finished product as well as the poet s own account of the poem s creation Making Poems offers a behind the scenes perspective on the poetic process that will fascinate both beginning and established writers The book also affords poetry instructors an opportunity to demonstrate to their students the ways in which poems can originate from seemingly mundane and unlikely sources
