Tales From The Basotho:

Tales from the Basotho Minnie Postma,2014-08-04 They say that the eldest of the chief s daughters So begins a tale from the Basotho unfolded by the meager light of a dung fire that burns smokily behind the reed screen sheltering the entrance of the hut The old ones of the tribe wait until dark before telling their stories for everyone knows horns will grow from the head of one who tells a story during daylight hours Tales from the Basotho abounds with elements familiar to folk narrative The heroes and heroines are the chiefs and their wives their sons and their daughters Fantastic creatures frequent the narratives exhibiting their awful powers Rustic peace and beauty pervade the stories as Minnie Postma amply demonstrates in her versions of the tales Something fearful may be occurring the dreaded Koeoko pulling the only son of the chief under water but at the same time girls with babies tied to their backs are searching for edible bulbs in the veld and an old woman dreams in the gentle sunlight in front of the huts These tales from the Basotho are for entertainment only There is a tabu against telling tales while the sun shines because daylight hours must be saved for work The telling itself is the reason the story exists for the audience is already aware of the outcome of each tale As Wm Hugh Jansen emphasizes in his foreword text and context are often easily interpreted and made accessible in a translation but Tales from the Basotho is ultimately successful for its rendering of texture And texture is doubly hard to convey when the telling itself is of primary importance Minnie Postma and Susie McDermid have transferred the art of the Basotho raconteur onto the printed page All the simple understandable formulas exclamations and repetitions used so skillfully by the native storyteller are present Rhythm is an important element in the tales and a word a phrase even a whole paragraph will be repeated until the rhythm satisfies the storyteller in tum increasing the appreciation of the listeners

Morongoe the Snake and many more Included in these tales are stories of the Sun Chief evil Witchdoctors or Ngaka the equivalent of an Evil Wizard spells being cast and broken and beautiful maidens being set free There are also tales of malevolent chiefs who rule their people with a fist of iron not caring how much innocent blood they shed and how their comeuppance is delivered by the hero of the day These tales were collected by Minnie Martin wife of a Government Official who came to South Africa and Basutoland from England in 1891 To enable a better understanding of the people and their customs she began to study the language collected these tales and became fairly fluent in the language Because the Bantu peoples of Southern Africa had no written language it must be noted that the first people to record the various languages the Boers and the British did so phonetically writing the language as they heard it being spoken Unlike most European languages there has been no influence of Latin Greek or Arabic which makes the learning of those languages that little more difficult Here you speak the word the way it is written e g Ngaka is read as In gaa kah Takane as Tak aan eh Khosi as Koh see etc So sit back and enjoy this unique collection of tales customs and lore from a little known place unseen or heard in the West for many generations 33% of the net profit will be donated to SENTEBALE a charity supporting children in Lesotho orphaned by AIDS
