Justice Through Diversity? Michael J. Sweeney, 2016-08-30 Arguably the most transformative force in contemporary society is the commitment to justice through diversity. A prime example is the change justice through diversity has wrought on who enters teaches and administers the university. It has changed the content of what is taught and the mission statements that define the purpose of higher education. What is rarely defined however is justice and how it is related to diversity. If justice is equality are all differences equal. Are all differences in race gender sexual orientation national origin ethnicity religion and culture equal. Should such differences be weighted differently and thus hierarchically. On what basis are those differences to be weighted and ranked to ensure equality. Justice Through Diversity brings together a Who's Who of contemporary scholars to explore these questions and others in an attempt to understand one of the central commitments in the modern world
